American Girls
Earth's Airy Armor
The Nordic Stayed Home
France May Show Us

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

OUR girls can swim. One, unmarried, swam the channel. Then an American married woman swam the channel. Now Martha Norelius of New York wins the 400-meter swim beating the Olympic record and the world's record.

Long distances, or short, across the channel or in 400 meters of smooth water, American girls finish first. It is a good sign for the coming generation which American girls must manufacture.

NEXT Saturday look for many shooting stars and thank eternal wisdom for the atmosphere which is earth's armor plate.

A shooting star is a meteor, usually of solid metal, melting, reduced to dust as it passes through our air.

At frightful speed, resistance of the air creates friction so intense that all but the biggest meteors melt and are destroyed.

IF our protecting atmosphere were missing and all the meteors struck with full weight, there wouldn't be a city in existence on the earth's surface.

PROF. R. D. McKENZIE of Washington says "Nordic supremacy" exists only in the Nordic's own conceit.

It is, however, true fact that the limited numbers of light-haired, light-eyed human beings have done a good deal. They have repeatedly conquered southern areas inhabited by dark-eyed people, only to be absorbed by the darker types.

WHAT historians would call "the 1,000 greatest men that have ever lived" were, more than 900 of them, of the light-eyed, light-haired type.

Even among dark-eyed races the genius often has light eyes. Napoleon coming from dark-eyed Corsica with his blue-gray eyes, etc.

IT was family life that did it. Men of the north, shut in all winter, had to get acquainted with their wives and children, and stay home. They couldn't go dancing through snow drifts with other people's families.

In the south, where the roads were open all winter, heads of families probably wandered. That gave northerners a start.

THE statement that Henry Ford drove one of his new cars 400 miles in one day was inaccurate. The facts are that Mr. Ford left Delaware Water Gap at 6:10 a. m. Saturday and arrived at his house in Dearborn, Mich., at 1:55 a. m. Sunday, driving 736 miles in 19 hours and 45 minutes.

THE worst of it is that Mr. Ford, who got to bed at 2:15 in the morning, was up at 6:30. At 65 years years of age that kind of trip, plus lack of sleep, is as bad as a two weeks' fever.

GRAINS were down yesterday, heare busy with wheat predicting $1 a bushel before the end of the year. The crop is abundant, so, according to bears and experience, prices must go down. It's an old story with farmers: when they haven't got it the price is high, when they have plenty of it the price is low.

If the railroads found their rates cut in two in good times they would not be happy.

UNCLE SAM'S budget for 1930 is estimated at three billion seven hundred million dollars. "Military defense" will cost $639,000,000. If real war came none of that money would be spent usefully except wages to commissioned officers and the trifling amounts spent on flying and submarines. All the rest would be useless junk.

National defense cost has increased $100,000,000. That amount spent for flying machines would give us a real defense.

FRANCE may show this rich country how to spend money on a big scale improving your own. The French conceive a scheme for creating gigantic seas in the deserts, originated by Isaac Braman, New York engineer. He would cut three deep, wide canals from the Mediterranean to the beds of three ancient Sahara lakes. Ten thousand square miles would be flooded, and Sahara's climate changed.

UNCLE SAM might wake up and think about his own country. He has plenty of money, plenty of water, and might use some of the water that does harm in the Mississippi Valley.

BODY IS FOUND

Man Shot to Death in West Side Chicago Resort

Chicago, Aug. 7—When a porter today opened the "Village Inn," a west side cabaret, to clean up the place, he found the body of a man known in the neighborhood as "Dibble."

The man had been shot to death. Detectives expressed the opinion he had been dead about six hours when found, placing the time of the murder about an hour after midnight.

Tables and chairs were overturned in the place, indicating a desperate fight had taken place. Police are trying to locate the owner of the cabaret.

END OF CITY'S SEWER PUZZLE NOW IN SIGHT

Bonds Sold To Finance Repairs for Eliminating Stream Pollution

10-YEAR PROBLEM

Nearly All Sewage Flow To Be Shut Off West of Marion, Is Belief

Final steps in a movement city officials, as well as the state board of health, hope will result in elimination of sewage pollution of Rock Swale ditch and the Little Scioto river, were taken yesterday when a bond issue of $6,050 was sold by the city of Marion to the Mansfield Savings Bank & Trust Co., of Mansfield.

The money will be used to finance repair of broken sewer connections which now result in great quantities of raw sewage being poured into the ditch and river, west of Marion.

Repair of a broken tile in the sanitary sewer on Uncapher av., which, according to Building Inspector Carl Tozzer, resulted in the raw sewage from nearly 400 homes emptying into Rock Swale ditch, was recently completed by the city service department. Similar conditions exist in other parts of the city, according to the inspector, and the money will be used to correct these conditions as they are discovered by the inspector.

Started 10 Years Ago

The campaign to eliminate pollution of the streams was started about 10 years ago by the state board of health and resulted in building of the new sewage disposal plant and the trunk line sewer. Completion of these two projects, however, failed to eliminate the pollution entirely and upon the receipt of a report from Floyd Browne, superintendent and chemist at the disposal plant showing that raw sewage continued to empty into the river, the campaign was again taken up by the state board of health, resulting in appointment of the inspector and the providing of money with which to make the necessary corrections as they are discovered.

That at least 75 per cent of the trouble will be eliminated with the correction of bad sewer connections, is the belief of the building inspector. It would be practically impossible to eliminate the troubl entirely, in the

POLISH FLIERS TO DECIDE ON FLIGHT

May Make Another Attempt To Cross Atlantic to United States

Lisbon, Aug. 7—Following an examination of the plane in which Maj. Louis Idzikowski and Casimir Kubala, Polish aviators, tried to make a transatlantic hop, a decision will be reached within 24 hours as to whether the airmen will make another effort to fly over the ocean.

Kubala, who was injured, expected to leave the hospital this afternoon, but his departure for Patis has been postponed until Thursday.

"We have not yet decided whether to attempt another flight to America," said Kubala. "Our decision will depend upon the outcome of the inspection of our plane at Oporto. An engineer is expected there today to examine the plane."

There still is considerable mystery over the course the two airmen followed. They evidently lost their way and traveled in circles before being forced down.

TOM MIX ADMITS WIFE WILL SUE HIM

Mrs. Mix and Daughter Now in Paris; Married 10 Years Ago

Beverly Hills, Cal., Aug. 7—Tom Mix, noted film cowboy actor today admitted that his wife had gone to Paris to sue him for divorce. Mrs. Mix left here a month ago with her daughter.

"I haven't heard from her since she left," he stated, "and I don't know what her present plans are. But when she went away, I told her I would agree to anything she wanted to do. But every night I pray that she and Tomasina will be sent back to me. My home is always open to them."

By the terms of a property settlement, arranged within the past year, Mrs. Mix is said to have received approximately $50,000.

Mix and the former Victoria Forde, an ex-film actress, were married 10 years ago.

PATROLMAN'S QUICK WORK SAVES LIFE OF CHILD

Toledo, Aug. 7—Elsie Jane Kubica, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kubica, Toledo, is alive here today because of the quick work of Patrolman Fred Nowicki. Elsie Jane swallowed a buckle and was choking when the policeman arrived on the scene and extracted the impediment.

EAGLES GROW

Membership Jumps from Six to 600,000 in 30 Years

COLUMBUS, Aug. 7—Membership of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has grown from a total of six 30 years ago to 600,000, President L. V. Westerman declared in addressing the first business session of the order's national convention here today. Resources of the order have mounted to $42,000,000 in that period, Westerman said.

SPECIFIC FARM PLAN SOUGHT BY DEMOCRATS

Search To Be Directed by Columbia University Professor for Committee

WILL REQUIRE WEEKS

Raskob Declares Study Will Not Be of Political Nature

New York, Aug. 7—Already committed to some plan for controlling the surplus crops of American farmers as an aid to agriculture, the Democratic national campaign managers today launched their quest for the specific program which they will offer the farmers in the election campaign.

The search is to be directed in behalf of the Democratic national committee by Prof. E. R. A. Seligman, world authority on taxation and public finance and professor of economics at Columbia university.

The study, which is to go to the economic and sociological roots of the vexatious farm problem probably will require "many weeks, if not months," Chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee declared.

Professor Seligman is now in Lake Placid, New York, on his vacation and is not expected to begin work on his report for at least a week or 10 days.

Has Been Republican

Insofar as Professor Seligman has taken an active part in politics in the past, he has always been identified with the Republican party.

"This study will in no sense be a political study," Raskob declared. "It is purely economic and an account of its magnitude will require many weeks if not months of hard work."

Asked if the detailed plan would be ready for publication before the election, Raskob said he hoped so, but was not certain.

"There can be no question but that there is some manner in which the farmers' problem can be solved along lines that are economically sound," Raskob continued, "that orderly instead of chaotic marketing and intelligent business-like control of surplus crops will all tend to give the farmer higher prices for his crops—and this increased purchasing power will result in greater prosperity for industry.

BANK TREND TOWARD MERGER, IS CLAIM

Greater Strength in Smaller Number of Institutions Cited

Washington, Aug. 7—The American banking system is rapidly being concentrated into a smaller number of financial institutions, it was learned today at the office of the comptroller of the currency and the federal reserve board.

Officials said that the result is a far-reaching improvement in the country's banking system, greater stability, fewer failures and an increasing position of security for depositors.

All banks, including national, federal reserve member and state and other institutions, number approximately 27,000, a reduction of 3,000 since 1925, although the resources of over $68,100,000,000 are more than $14,000,000,000 greater than five years ago.

The number of national banks alone decreased 300 since 1920 with approximately 7,700 now in operation. At the same time the national bank resources increased by $6,000,000,000 to $28,000,000,000.

Both the controller's office, in charge of national banks, and the federal reserve board, said that the general tendency is toward consolidation and greater strength of a fewer number of banks.

Officials frankly admitted that the country has been "over-banked" since the war.

INVENTOR DIES

Athens Receives Word of Passing of Frank M. Leavitt

Athens, Aug. 7—Word of the death yesterday of Frank M. Leavitt, native of this city and widely known inventor, was received here today from Scarsdale, N. Y., Leavitt's home.

Leavitt was born in Athens 72 years ago, attended the public schools and later received the degree of mechanical engineer, following his graduation from Stevens Institute of Technology.

Among his most important inventions were the Bliss-Leavitt torpedo and the Whitehead torpedo, used by the U. S. navy, and a steam steering gear. He also was the inventor of the first automatic tin can making machine.

California Crew Captures Quarter-Final Heat From Italian Eight-Oared Shell

America, Canada and England Will Compete in Semi-Finals on Wednesday; One Team Will Draw Bye and Go into Finals Automatically

Sloten, Holland, Aug. 7—The Golden Bears of California, stroking beautifully, rowed Italy into the bottom of its shell to win one of the quarter final heats in the Olympic eight-oared championship today. The Bears won by three lengths in 6:32 4-5 for the 2,000-metre distance.

Italy started with a great flurry of strokes, averaging almost 48 to the minute. California was rowing a 42-stroke rate, gaining a slight lead at 250 metres. After both settled down, the Bears continued to gain and were a half length in front at 500 metres. They continued to pull away from the Italians, steadily but remorselessly—and were three-quarters of a length ahead at 750 metres. This was increased to a length and a half at the half-way point.

Dropping their stroke to a very smooth but powerful 36, the Bears were 2½ lengths to the good at 1,500 metres and, although they declined to extend themselves in the final stretch, they gained an extra half length on their weary adversaries before the finish line was crossed.

The eights remaining for the semi-finals were California, England and Canada. The fortunate one among the three will draw a bye and automatically go into the final. The remaining two will race it out in the semi-final tomorrow for the honor of competing in the final.

LOCAL MAN BURNED WHEN GAS IGNITES

A. W. Long, Merchant av., in Hospital After Accident in Agosta

A. W. Long, 163 Merchant av., was severely burned late yesterday afternoon while repairing a gasoline pump at the J. W. Free garage in Agosta. He was taken to City hospital.

He was badly burned, particularly about the face and hands, and his condition is reported as serious. His clothing caught fire when the control on the pump stuck, allowing the tank to fill with gas and come in contact with an electric switch.

Mr. Long is employed as mechanic in charge of equipment for the Pure Oil Co. here and was repairing the pump as a representative from the local office, when the accident occurred.

FATHER AND TWO CHILDREN DIE IN CRASH

Four Members of Anderson Burba Family Jump to Safety

(Special to The Star)

Kenton, Aug. 7—Death toll in the crossing tragedy which occurred at Silvercreek south of here last night when a northbound Big Four passenger train crashed into an automobile bearing eight members of the Anderson Burba family, homeward bound from a fishing trip, stood at three this morning while a fourth was in McKitrick hospital seriously injured.

Four other members jumped to safety before the fatal crash.

Anderson Burba, 42 the father, and daughter, Ruth, 3, were killed instantly. A son, Harold, 5, died in the M. Kitrick rick hospital at 2:20 o'clock this morning from internal injuries and a fractured skull.

Mother in Hospital

The mother, Mrs. Anderson Burba, 36, sustained a dislocated hip and body cuts and bruises. She is in the hospital here.

The four children who escaped were Vernon, 13, Lewis, 10, James, 8, and Stelin, 6.

According to information the members of the family were returning from a fishing trip when the tragedy occurred. It is believed that the car stalled on the tracks in the path of the passenger.

Seeing the oncoming train, four of the children shrieked a warning and climbed to safety. The father had climbed from his seat and was frantically trying to aid the wife and two other children out of the car when the crash came. The machine was turned over onto him, breaking his neck.

Infant Found Dead

Harold was hurled from the wreckage to the side of the tracks as was the mother, it was said, while the infant, Ruth, whom she had been holding on her lap, was found dead in the wrecked car. The auto is said to have been carried 60 feet down the track.

The train was stopped and members of the crew aided in caring for the injured later bringing them into Kenton. An ambulance brought the bodies to Kenton.

The Burba family lived on the Scott Sloan farm four miles south of here. Funeral plans are being completed today.

SMITH TAKES STEPS TO STOP GAMBLING

Investigation of Vice at Saratoga Springs Ordered by Governor

Albany, N. Y., Aug 7—Gov. Al Smith today took steps to suppress gambling at Saratoga Springs where one of the great racing meets in the country is now in full swing.

In a letter to three officials of Saratoga, Sheriff William N. Cronsie, District Attorney John R. Smith and Commissioner of Public Safety Edward Sweeney, the governor announced that he had received a complaint that gambling and vice was flourishing at the famous summer resort.

The governor served notice on the officials that he had ordered members of the state constabulary to police the city in civilian clothes and to investigate gambling and vice conditions there.

If the state police find that gambling and vice is rampant in Saratoga the governor bluntly told the three officials that it would form the basis for charges looking toward their removal.

CHILD IS KILLED

Toledo, Aug. 7—Junior Minnick, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Minnick, Toledo, was dead here today from injuries received yesterday afternoon when struck by an automobile. Miss Marjorie McGuffin, 24, Pettiville, O., driver of the car, was released after questioning by police.

PLUNGES INTO POOL

Middletwon, Aug. 7—Efforts were being made today to recover the body of Lester Wolfe, 20, who was drowned yesterday when he backed the truck he was driving too close to the edge of a gravel pit, the heavy vehicle plunging backward into the pool. It is believed his body is pinned beneath the driver's cabin.

DIVERS INSERT AIR TUBE INTO WRECKED SUB

HOPES HELD FOR RESCUE

Radio Telephone Communication Established with Trapped Crew

London, Aug. 7—Divers have succeeded in inserting an air tube into the Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in the Adriatic following collision with an Italian destroyer, said a dispatch from Rome this afternoon quoting an official statement. The text of the statement follows:

"The crew of the submarine F-14 consisted of two officers and 29 men. The divers have succeeded in inserting an air tube. A chain has been placed underneath the submarine. The weather continues rough. The cruiser Aquila is standing by."

Trieste, Italy, Aug. 7—All the resources of the Italian navy were brought out into play today in an attempt to save the lives of 31 men trapped at the bottom of the sea in the Italian submarine F-14.

The submarine sank in 120 feet of water after colliding with the destroyer Giuseppe Missori seven miles west of the Island of Brioni.

The submarine had been engaged in attacking manoeuvers with the Italian fleet. It rose to the surface unexpectedly, directly under the bow of the destroyer.

Located by Seaplane

A seaplane which went up immediately after the crash, reported that the craft was plainly visible at the bottom only a short distance away from the battleship Brindisi.

Four divers are now on the scene but have not been able to go down into the water because of unfavorable weather conditions. The collision occurred at 8:45 a. m. yesterday morning (Italian time) and although 24 hours have passed, the trapped men are believed to still be alive. They have maintained communication with officers of the Brindisi by means of acoustic signals.

Admiral Foschini, aboard the Brindisi, is directing the rescue operations. It is feared that the effecting of a rescue will be extremely difficult but the signals from the ill-fated craft showing that some, at least, are alive, give hope that the trapped men may be saved.

Constructed in 1916

The F-14 is one of 10 of its class built at Leghorn in 1916 and 1917. It was engaged in coastal defense. Its

JEWELS VALUED AT $90,000 DISAPPEAR

Waiter at Hotel Being Held in Connection with Robbery

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7—The theft of jewels valued at upwards of $90,000 from the hotel suite of Henry C. Heintz, of Atlanta, Ga., who is at a Beach Front hotel here was revealed today by the arrest of William Sears, negro, 28, who is held as a suspect in connection with the theft.

Heintz is an official of the Coca Cola Co. of Atlanta, Ga., and the immediate past president of the Kiwanis International. According to information given out by the hotel officials, Heintz left his hotel early Sunday last to play golf on the mainland and Mrs. Heintz ordered breakfast served in their suite. The jewels, including an 18-caret diamond valued at $35,000, were lying on top of a dresser in plain sight.

According to hotel officials, Sears, the waiter, arrived with the breakfast while Mrs. Heintz was in her bath, arranged the dishes and departed. When Mrs. Heintz came from her bath, according to the hotel officials, the jewels had departed too.

Man Who Lost Life in Detroit Gets Hoosfoot Medal

Dayton, Aug. 7—Friends of John A. Bell, 46, native of Springfield, O., whose tragic death during a futile attempt to save the life of a fellow worker in a Detroit city sewer was reported in late dispatches from the Michigan city yesterday, recalled today the heroism of Bell during the disastrous 1913 flood.

Bell, at that time employed by a telephone company, successfully struggled to keep lines open to Columbus and went without food or sleep for 36 hours. As a reward for his efforts Gov. James M. Cox presented Bell with a medal commemorating his invaluable services

POLICE LAUNCH CAMPAIGN AT STOP STREETS

Report Hundreds of Motorists Failing To Observe New Traffic Regulations

SEND COURT NOTICES

All Ordered To Appear Before Municipal Judge Martin or Before Friday

The lid on enforcement of the stop street section of the city ordinance, came down with a thud here yesterday when police secured the license numbers of more than 300 motorists who are charged with having failed to observe the rules.

Seated in automobiles at inconspicuous places, patrolmen from 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning until 8 o'clock last night gave their entire attention to the careless motorist, with the result that more than 300 license numbers were turned into municipal court this morning.

The owner of each car which failed to stop at marked intersections will be notified by mail, Chief of Police Thompson said this morning. All must appear in court by Friday morning, the chief states.

"Coaxing" To End

"We have used every means to induce motorists to observe the traffic laws," the chief said. "We have coaxed them and have appealed to their sense of decency as law-abiding citizens, but all in vain. Now we are going to enforce the traffic ordinance by other means. Every motorist who receives a notice of his violation of the stop street ordinance, and who does not appear in court by Friday morning, will be brought to the station by a uniformed patrolman. And if necessary he will be locked up the same as any other violator of the city ordinances."

The chief's statement was supported by Safety Director Strayer.

"You can say for me," the safety director said, "that this ordinance is going to be enforced and unless the motorist who receives a notice from the municipal court, appears in court as instructed, he will be brought in by a uniformed patrolman."

Ample time has been given motorists, the chief declares, to accustom themselves to the stop signs and there is absolutely no reason why they should not bring their cars to a halt at these intersections.

Furnishes Evidence

The extent to which the stop street is not observed was cited by the chief in a test made several days ago when out of 2,200 cars which passed a cer-

Court of Honor To Make Awards in Program Friday Night

Featuring a concert by the Mt. Gilead Boy Scout band, scouts of the Harding Area are preparing for their biggest night of the year on Friday at Camp John A. Owens.

All scouts of the area, together with their parents and friends, have been invited by Scout Executive W. C. Brown to attend. Awards for work done in camp this summer will be made by the Court of Honor.

The program will start at 7:30 o'clock with the concert followed by the session of the court of honor.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY MARION BANKS

Educational Method To Acquaint Public with Value of Check Service

An educational campaign to acquaint Marion residents with the value of paying bills by check has been started by the Marion Clearing House association.

The campaign is to extend over a period of 60 days. Posters, the mail and newspaper advertising will be utilized. The first of a series of letters and pamphlets will be mailed to customers of the six Marion banks Thursday. The newspaper advertising campaign will open the following day. Posters have already been placed in the various banks.

The campaign is being conducted for the local banks by Dalvin, Merrill, Price & Bennett, of Chicago, sales and advertising counsel to banks.

The six banks associated in the campaign are the Marion Savings Bank, the Marion County bank, the Marion National bank, the Fahey Banking Co., the National City Bank & Trust Co., and the West Side bank.

62-Year-Old Man Swims 12 Miles Across Ohio River To Prove He Is Not Too Old

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7—Henry Ford's statement that without older men to guide the rising generation the universe would not rotate so smoothly was reaffirmed today in a peculiar manner—the swimming of 12 miles on the Ohio river by 62-year-old Edward B. Ree and to top it off, this veteran of adversity swam the distance on his back.

"Too old" was the dictum of employment managers wherever Ree sought work. "Too old," he repeated to himself, "I'll show 'em." And those who witnessed the amazing feat admitted freely today that they had been "shown."

Holding a newspaper aloft in one hand and a handkerchief in another, Ree slipped into the river here and crossed and recrossed it six times in a driving rain. When the sixth crossing had been completed he clambered up the bank—the paper and handkerchief still held high.

He hardly believes now that he will be met with a reaped out "too old" when he applies for a job, for he took the precaution of having witnesses present to prove his swim was bona fide.

UNION HEADS ARE ASSAILED BY LEADER

Declares Miners Need New Officers Who Have Men's Welfare at Heart

Athens, Aug. 7—Officials of the United Mine Workers, District No. 6, Ohio, were viciously assailed here today in a statement issued by Harley Worden, York township leader of marches and picket camps, and a friend of Oral Daugherty. The statement was issued after official notification was received by officials of the organization that Daugherty would not be reinstated as president of the Hocking subdistrict.

His statement said in part:

"The signers of the petitions asking for the reinstatement of Oral Daugherty as president of the Hocking subdistrict are all loyal union men and have for 16 months refused to work in non-union mines. The Hocking miners are weary of promises made by these officials and do not blame Ohio coal operators for refusing to deal with them and having no confidence in them.

"The miners have need for new officers who have the welfare of the rank and file of the men at heart instead of trying to save their own offices and good salaries."

Worden is president of a local union of several hundred union miners at Floodwood.

O. M. ANDREWS DIES AT DAVIDS ST. HOME

Passes Away After Illness Resulting from Neuralgia of Heart

Oscar Marion Andrews, blacksmith, died after a six weeks' illness of neuralgia of the heart, at 1:30 o'clock this morning at his home, 511 Davids st. He was 56 years of age.

Mr. Andrews was born at Mt. Victory, O., Nov. 22, 1872, the son of Isaac Conklin and Abigail Garwood Andrews, native Ohioans, who preceded him in death. His father was originally from Hardin county. On Sept. 12, 1900, at York Center, O., Mr. Andrews was married to Miss Cora M. Spangler. He was a member of the M. E. church at West Mansfield.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Ora Andrews, a daughter, Mrs. Victor Wilgus, both at home, a sister, Mrs. Rachel Cottrell, 395 Quarry st., and two brothers, John Andrews of Mt. Victory and James Andrews of near Bucyrus.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Andrews home and at 2:30 o'clock at the M. E. church in York Center. The Rev. O. E. Smith, of Prospect, will officiate and burial will be in the York Center cemetery.

WILL VISIT ISLAND

Courtney and Companions Must Pass Before Immigration Officials

New York, Aug. 7—Capt. Frank T. Courtney, Fred Pierce, Hugh Gilmour and E. B. Hosmer, who were forced down in mid-Atlantic last Thursday when their Dornier-Napier flying boat Whale caught fire, probably will be required to go to Ellis Island today to pass before the immigration inspectors.

The owners of the liner Minnewaska, which rescued the fliers and brought them here, would be liable to a fine of $1,000 if the aviators overlooked this technicality.

The fliers attended a theatrical performance last night after being honored at a banquet given by an organization of aviators known as the quiet bird men. They intimated they might attempt another transatlantic flight, with Courtney as the pilot and Hosmer as the financial backer.

Blessed are the peacemakers; but they get some hard knocks.

Kenton Musicians To Play In Concerts at State Fair

Kenton, Aug. 7—A majority of the youthful musicians who appeared with the famous Wainwright boys' band in two concerts on the closing day of the Hardin county chautauqua, at Lake Idlewild pavilion, are to play in concerts at the Ohio State fair, in Columbus, late this month, it was stated here today.

Included in the band's personnel are Tom Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell, and Dan Fox, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Fox, both of Kenton.

The musicians are the leading members of the band and orchestra camp conducted by J. W. Wainwright, of Fostoria, at Oliver Lake, Ind., having been selected from out of a list of more than 200 applicants. During the past several weeks they have been appearing in concerts in many Ohio cities, including Toledo and Put-in-Bay. They came here Saturday from Napoleon, traveling in two huge passenger buses.

The group was directed in their concerts here by Jack Wainwright, noted musician and camp director. One of the features of the programs was the saxophone quartet numbers, Tom Campbell was a member of this quartet.

Both Kenton lads in greeting their many friends here, spoke interestingly of their camp life and of their numerous successful concerts.

WOMAN GETS NEWS OF FATHER'S DEATH

Body of Henry Seaman To Be Brought to Upper Sandusky for Burial

Upper Sandusky, Aug. 7—Word was received by Mrs. D. K. Corfman, of east of this city, yesterday, telling of the death of her father, Henry Seaman, which occurred at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stumpf, at Fort Wayne, Ind., yesterday morning. His death was due to apoplexy.

The remains will be brought to this city Wednesday afternoon and will be taken in the Bringman Fueral car directly to the Old Mission church where funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock in charge of the Rev. C. R. Williamson. Burial will be in Old Mission cemetery.

1,200 SUBSCRIBE FOR KENTON CHAUTAUQUA

Advance Pledges Assure Program for Next Year, Officials State

ENTIRE ALLOTMENT

1929 Entertainment To Be Given at Lake Idlewild Pavilion

Kenton, Aug. 7—A sufficient number of season tickets totaling 1,200 to guarantee a chautauqua program for 1929 was subscribed at the closing session of this year's chautauqua, it was announced today by officials of the Hardin County Chautauqua association.

While the entire allotment of tickets has been taken up, preliminary discussion of plans for the 1929 eight-day session will not be entered into until the directors meet to organize and confer with representatives of the Lour Independent chautauquas, of Bloomington, Ill., in January or February.

Should a program be agreed upon and talent selected, the chautauqua will again be held at the Lake Idlewild pavilion. Directors voted in favor of the pavilion at a meeting last week. Previous to this season the programs have been given at Bell's park on the southern edge of the city.

The old board of directors, many of whom have served the chautauqua since its inception more than 15 years ago, was reelected last night, chautauqua patrons participating in the balloting. Present association officers are: William Kraus, president; C. G. Phillips and W. J. Mathews, vice presidents; L. T. Detwiler, secretary, and G. L. Rosenthall, treasurer.

The new directors will meet to organize early next year.

Two Men Plead Guilty to Liquor Charge in Court at Kenton

Kenton, Aug. 7—Pleading guilty to the charge of transporting liquor, Tolly and Claude Collins, both giving their address as Logan county, were fined $100 and costs each by Judge Isaac McElroy in probate court Monday. Upon failure to pay their fines the two were ordered committed to the Toledo workhouse.

The men were arrested by Sheriff John Crooks near the Hardin county jail. A pint of alleged liquor was found in their machine, according to the sheriff.

BUT one team now stands in the way of the Epworth Juniors recreation ball team and the little world series following contests played last night in Sunday School League No. 2 when Lutherans and United Brethren were defeated.

After several weeks during which time from two to three teams were tied for first place, Jim Lingo's nine is now sitting on top of the standings, A full game behind are United Brethren and Lee Street in second place.

The only team that stands between the Epworth nine and the flag is Christian. The league leaders will play their final game of the season next Monday night against this agreegation. If the Christians should win there would be a possibility of a three way tie. This is not considered likely although worse things have happened to championship teams.

Epworth Juniors stepped out in front last night by defeating the Lutherans, 2 to 1 in a fast seven-inning scramble. The leaders scored two runs in the second inning with two out. Wolfe made first on fielder's choice with Whitcum being thrown out at second. Shultz ed out to second and Bob Elliott singled over the middle sack. Christman's drive through second was muffed and two runs were counted.

An error also accounted for the Lutheran's lone tally. Young Lingo's error in center field allowed Thiahaut to take home. The rest of the contest was exceptionally good. Shultz held the Lutheran's to two hits while the Juniors obtained four off Bartsch.

Lee Street settled all hopes for a tie for first place by blanking the United Brethren, 3 to 0. After the first inning both teams fought scoreless.

First Reformed won their first game of the season defeating Presbyterian, 15 to 13. The contest between Christians and Forest Lawn was called off on account of wet grounds. The scores:

DAVIS CUP CAPTAIN MAY QUIT AMATEUR RANKS TO TURN PRO

"Big Bill" Will Be Given Trial Within Next 48 Hours

KICKED OFF ONCE

Charged with Writing About Wimbledon Tennis Tourney While Playing

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Aug. 7—Having finished its European run, l'opera comique, or the perils of a player-writer, will enjoy its American premiere tomorrow when the good ship Paris docks in the North river with a passenger list including members of the Davis Cup team and two officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association who seem to suspect that all has not been love sets in their absence. The rest of the tennis association is prepared to receive the head man, Will Tilden, with open jack knives; for Will is the young man who is alleged to have affronted rules and regulations by writing about Wimbledon in a manner entirely too familiar for good taste and was to have been declared null, void and disenfranchised as an amateur.

That he finally was restored to the team for the challenge round at the solicitation of Ambassador Herrick was only a temporary measure, the tennis association proclaimed today. Will still is charged with the heinous offense of earning his living, in addition to a lot of other people's, and must stand trial for the offense.

Wants Trial

It is understood that President Samuel H. Collom feels the same way about it but from essential different motives. He wants Tilden to be given an immediate trial because he feels a prompt show down is only justice for a player who was condemned in the absence of his president, Collom himself, and the chairman of the Davis Cup committee, Joesph W. Wear. Both are pro-Tilden men, first and last.

Tilden, therefore, probably will be hailed before the executive committee in th next 48 hours. Many bystanders seem to feel that his conviction as a professional will follow.

However, those close to the situation believe that these developments are just as likly, if not more so.

1. Tilden to be given a very nasty slap across the index or typewriting fingers.

2. Tilden to beat the gun by declaring himself a professional.

In regard to the latter, they say there are rumors even before the team sailed that this announcement might follow Tilden to make his last, despairing effort to bring the cup back to America and, having done all that any reasonable man could expect of him,te declare for professionalism and enter an open championship which, they say, was being planned for Philadelphia in September. The west side tennis club at Forest Hills also was in the field for the open event, it is declared.

Anyhow, the claim is that Tilden never will wait for the committee to declare him out if he becomes convinced that that is the way the cards are to run. He will announce his retirement from amateur tennis, pronto, they say, unless the signs are altogether favorable toward the letting out of a committee contract for whitewashing.

The signs, according to those who feel they ought to know, are that Tilden is needed too badly as a gate attraction at the national championships for the committee to do other than chide him brutally and send him to bed without his milk toast. This wouldn't be consistent with the association's antics while Tilden was abroad. But who ever heard of the association being consistent, they want to know. And, to save my mastoids, I can't seem to remember just who that was.

HIS GREAT HEART

That's what won for Ray Barbutt, Syracuse University star, in the 400-meter event at Amsterdam. Outclassed, run off his legs, this great gamester couldn't—wouldn't give up, and when Ball, Canadian marvel, seemed about to flash ahead of him at the tape, Barbutt hurled himself headlong across the line in the most dramatic finish Olympic spectators ever saw.

TED DREWES FACES STERN COMPETITION IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

Several Stars Shine in Front of Public Parks Champion

Cleveland, Aug. 7—Ted Drewes, the St. Louis wizard who has demonstrated his mastery in every national public parks tennis tournament since 1924, faces stern competition in this year's meet.

Drewes was aware of this today following the first day's battle in the 1928 tourney. There are several gentlemen, gripping quite dangerous tennis racquets, who stand between him and his fifth straight championship.

One of these individuals came all the way from Los Angeles to tell the Missourian to "show me." Another is from down in Memphis, a third from Chicago and still another from Baltimore.

The champion did not look his part yesterday when he required four sets to dispose of Richard Ross, a comparatively unknown player from Scranton, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Meanwhile, Lester Stoefen, 17-year-old Los Angeles flash, was fulfilling advance predictions of his prowess by eliminating Lester Utoff, of Newburgh Heights, 6-0, 6-0, 6-1; Johnny Metz, of Memphis, was smashing through John Bingham, of Cleveland Heights, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1; and George Jennings, of Chicago, runner-up to Drewes in last year's tournament, was running through J. Hendricks, of Detroit, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Another evil omen to the Drewes dynasty appeared on the horizon when William Bascom, his 17-year-old fellow townsman and his partner in the forthcoming doubles matches, fell before Barcalow Stevens, of Cleveland, in the hardest fought and most interesting match of the day. Stevens won 2-6, 7-5, 6-0, 6-8, 6-3.

Elmer Rudy, of Baltiomre, a veteran of public parks competition, easily defeated William Buchanan, of Washington, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. Other results of yesterday's play were as follows:

Louis Schaeffer (Buffalo) defeated Ed Jacobs (Baltimore) by default; Ed Nowak (Buffalo) defeated Alex Winn (Savannah) 6-2, 7-5, 6-2; Fred Tracy (Garfield Heights) defeated Alex Smith (Norfolk, O.) default; Gus Amsterdam (Philadelphia) defeated Harry Staten (Lakewood) 6-0, 7-5, 6-4; Milford Meyer Philadelphia) defeated M. Mirsuye (Sharon) default; D. Mitchell (Washington) defeated Lee Chilcott (Newburgh Heights) 6-0, 6-0, 6-1; E. Cardon (Philadelphia) defeated Irving Moss (Detroit) 6-3, 3-6, 6-1, 5-7, 8-6; and Wayne Fuller (Cleveland) defeated R. Denslow (Cleveland) 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Woman may be a conundrum, but she always has a ready answer.

ATHLETICS SLOW UP TO BLOW CONTEST AT DETROIT; YANKS LOSE

Hugmen Will Wind Up Western Tour Without Winning One Series

SIMMONS IN LEAD

Pennant Dreams of Cubs Go Up in Smoke; Drop Two Games

New York, Aug. 7—The champion New York Yankees today are winding up a western tour in which they did not win a single series—a new and crushing experience for the once powerful machine which began setting the baseball world on fire two years ago. If the Hugmen are beaten by Chicago today, they will have lost all four series in the west.

The only silver lining to New York's dark cloud is that their pursuers, Connie Mack's thunder herd of white elephants, have slowed up a trifle. The Yanks lost to the White Sox yesterday in 15 innings, 5 to 4, but their lead remained at 3½ games when the Athletics were beaten by Detroit, 8 to 5. The Tigers kayoed George Earnshaw and his mates made three errors.

Al Simmons of the A's took the lead in the league batting race, which he held last year at this time, by making three hits and forging ahead of Goose Goslin of Washington.

Willie Kamm's triple in the fifteenth ruined the Yankees, after a pinch double by Reynolds had tied the score in the ninth. Pipgras was the losing pitcher, Adkins the winner.

The Pennant dreams of the Cubs apparently have gone up in smoke. The Bruins went slumming in Philly and were bowled over twice by the lowly Quakers, a shot that was heard 'round the baseball world. Hack Wilson's twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth homers failed to win the opened and Alex Ferguson stopped the Cubs cold in the nightcap. The casualty lists totaled 8 to 7 and 5 to 1.

The much-shuffled Washington club, which presents more new faces daily than a chin-lifting emporium, swamped Cleveland, 11 to 2, after Willis Hudlin who had won a 7 to 4 decision over the Nats in the opener. Joe Judge got five hits in as many times at bat in the nightcap.

Heavy hitting by Kress and Manush staked the Browns to a 9 to 4 win over the Red Sox.

Other teams did not play.

IN UPSETS

Steam Shovel and Erie entries were given some surprises in the Industrial hardball league Saturday afternoon when they were defeated by the Oakland Merchants and Pollak Steel. The Merchants downed the Shovel, 9 to 2 while the Erie lost 9 to 7.

teur status by capitalizing his fame as a player to a point where he sold his tennis articles for high prices.

Tilden's defense was that he was a newspaper writer before he ever became a tennis satellite; that writing was his means of livelihood and that if he had to quit tennis or quit writing he would quit tennis—so there!

Tilden Drawing Magnate

Of course, the U. S. L. T. A. was against that "I'll quit tennis" attitude The reason was quite financial. Tilden was the mightiest magnet in the get realms; without him as a competitor the tournaments around the country would draw a hatful of customers, whereas with Bill included among the contestants the gate receipts would be enormous.

So a compromise was effected.

With Tilden sitting in at the time, a rule was made that permitted a player to write about tennis, tennis players and tennis tournaments but the player was barred from writing about tournaments in which he was a contestant.

The scene next shifts to England.

Tilden competed in the Wimbledon tournament there.

After the tournament was over he wrote articles about it.

Thus he violated the very rule he had assisted in framing, and, having done so, he apparently lost his amateur status.

Suspended Again

The U. S. L. T. A. officials quickly took note of his fracture of the law and suspended him from the Davis Cup team.

So far, so good.

The U. S. L. T. A. officials could take no other action.

Tilden smashed the law, willfully and deliberately. He did so in a sane and normal state of mind and therefore officials were absolutely right in their action and deserve some pats on their shoulder blades.

After which—what?

Well, so the story goes, the French authorities emitted shrill cries of anguish and despair. With Tilden barred from playing on the American team against the championship French aggregation, the Davis Cup games in Paris, which were expected to profit the French Tennis association to the extent of $100,000, took on the general appearance of a terrific flop. Nobody wanted to see the great French team playing against a cripple American squad and, therefore, the ticket sales became almost null and void.

French Demand Tilden

The French demanded that the ban be lifted from Tilden—that he be permitted to play. The American officials at first replied, "No, he is barred because he broke the amateur rule." Whereupon the French are said to have retorted like this:

"All right. You bar Tilden from playing here and kill our ticket sales, after which we retaliate by not permitting our tennis stars to cross to the U. S. A. later and take part in your national championships."

What transpired next.

Nothing more and nothing less than that the U. S. L. T. A. lifted the ban on Tilden and permitted him to play in the Davis Cup games.

The Davis Cup championships are limited strictly to simon-pure amateurs.

Under the rules of the U. S. L. T. A. Bill Tilden surrendered his simon-pure amateur standing when he broke the law that bars players from writing about tournaments in which they compete.

So what is Tilden—actually?

And what were those Davis Cup games—actually?

Masons Find Out That League Pennant Not Clinched

When the Marion Masons meet Upper Sandusky at Lincoln Park tomorrow night the local team will still need one game to cinch the pennant, it was announced today.

The Upper Sandusky nine beat Marion sometime ago being the only defeat given the locals this year. It was previously announced that the team needed but one game to win but the manager was mixed up on his dates.

LOUGHRAN-SHARKEY

Signed for Fight; Champ To Enter Scramble For Crown

New York, Aug. 7—Promoter Tex Rickard has signed Tommy Loughran for a bout with Jack Sharkey on Oct. 5 and Joe Smith, manager of the light-heavyweight champion, was to ask the New York state athletic commission today to allow Loughran to enter the elimination scramble for the heavyweight title vacated by Gene Tunney. Sharkey, however, has not been signed by Rickard for the Loughran bout and is flirting with rival promoters.

Smith said Loughran would sacrifice the Sharkey match if ordered to relinquish his 175-pound title, as Jack Delaney did, as the price of entering the heavyweight ranks.

GAMES WEDNESDAY

RIVER BASS ACTIVE

Bass fishermen will find rivers more productive of fish than lakes, during the dreamy days of early August. River bass seem to be less affected by water temperatures and are more responsive to lures than the lake dwellers.

With the coming of September, the lake bass will pep up again and the river bass are also more active. Some of the best bass fishing I can recall in the state of Ohio has been on the rivers in the fall of the year, late September and early October.

Reports from Vermillion are to the effect that the bass are nearly all out of the river and that catfishing is on the wane. Vermillion will now afford some fishing in Lake Erie, just off the breakwater.

Best way to practice what you preach is to greatly limit what you preach.

Operatic and Classical

VARIETY OF OFFERINGS BOOKED

Music on Radio Bill

An operetta and a light opera as well as selections of a classical nature, produced in America during recent years will be offered to radio listeners over the National Broadcasting system, Wednesday night.

At 8 o'clock Jessica Dragonette, NBC prima donna, will be back before the microphone after a two week's vacation in Victor Herbert's "The Debutante." This operetta will be heard as the Philco hour feature.

The summer Gilbert and Sullivan series by the National opera company will be continued at 9:30 o'clock with the presentation of the familiar "Pirates of Penzance." John Oakley will be the featured soloist of the hour.

"Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," an adaption of the dream melody from Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta" will be the first selection offered by the Sylvania Foresters at 7:30 o'clock. "Down by the Old Mill Stream" will be a popular number presented by this group.

Selections from "Carmen" by Bizet, will be heard in the slumber music broadcast at 10 o'clock. The program will open with "Marche Militaire."

"How Sweet the Moonlight Sleeps," a Leslie composition in an unusual vocal arrangement, will be heard during the 30-minute broadcast by the National mixed quartet at 7 o'clock.

MEEKER MAKES PLANS TO FINANCE SMITH

Formation of Statewide Committee Will Be Made by Columbus Man

Columbus, Aug. 7—Plans for the formation of a Democratic statewide finance committee to assist the state executive body in raising funds for the presidential campaign, were announced here today by Claude Meeker, Columbus broker.

Meeker, who cast Ohio's vote for Gov. Alfred E. Smith at Houston, was named as the Ohio director of finance of the Democratic National committee by Col. Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic national director of finance. Meeker anticipates a committe composed equally of men and women.

"I hope to announce the full committee soon," Meeker said today, after a conference with Henry G. Brunner, Mansfield, Democratic state chairman.

MARION NATIONAL BANK

Aged 6 months

That Rare Old Flavor

The wines of the Rhine are made with loving care, then AGED to develop that fragrant bouquet and delicious flavor which have made them famous the world over.

Like these wines, rare old Clicquot Club Ginger Ale is made with infinite care:—

First, ingredients of the highest quality are skillfully blended by a secret formula developed through more than 40 years' experience. We alone know this formula. Then this perfect blend is AGED 6 MONTHS—the only way to secure that rich, ripe mellowness which makes Clicquot Club not only delicious but wholesome, digestible and altogether good for you.

Near Bingen, Germany

From this district comes a Rhine wine of rare quality, aged for many months to develop bouquet and flavor.

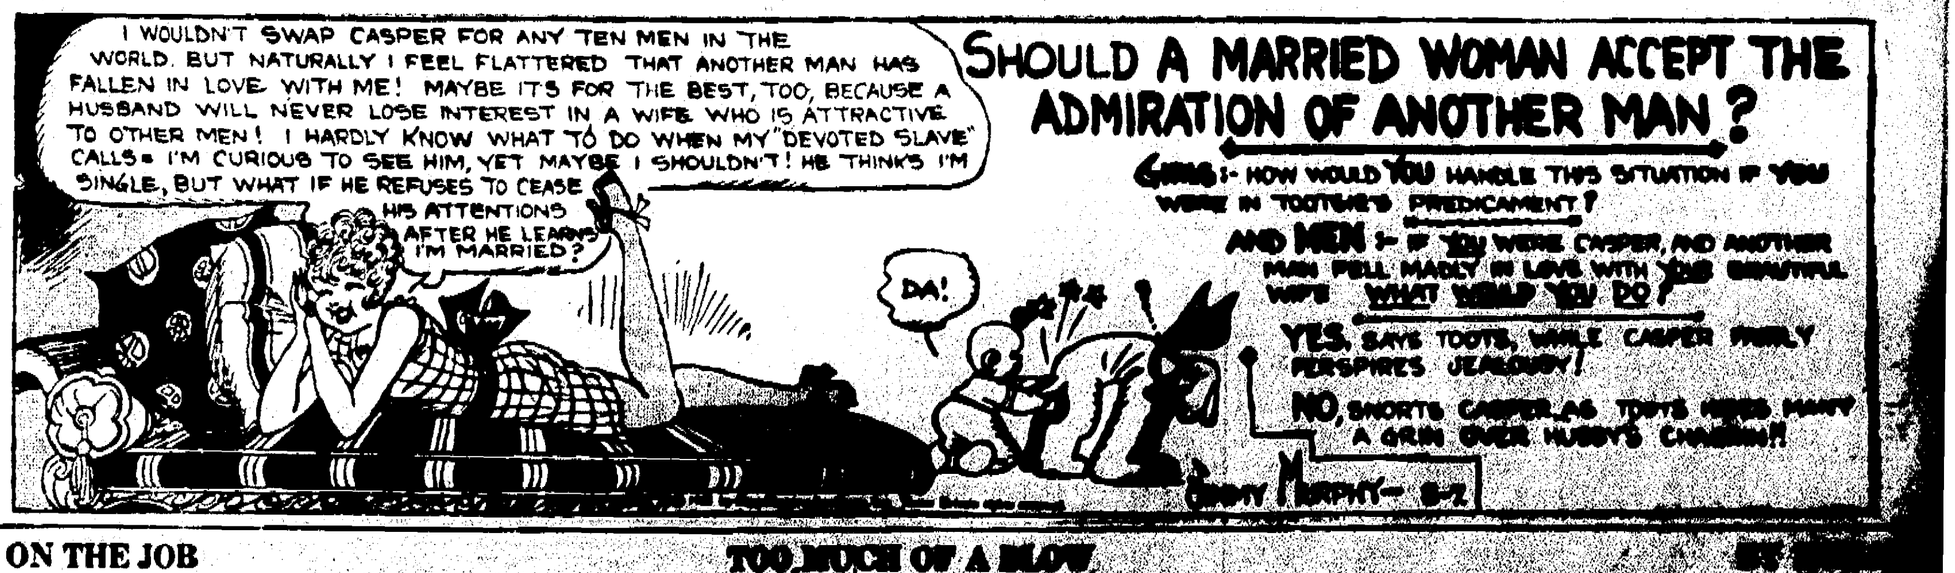
TOOTS AND CASPER

THE BIG QUESTION

BY JIMMY MURPHY



I WOULDN'T SWAP CASPER FOR ANY TEN MEN IN THE WORLD. BUT NATURALLY I FEEL FLATTERED THAT ANOTHER MAN HAS FALLEN IN LOVE WITH ME! MAYBE IT'S FOR THE BEST, TOO, BECAUSE A HUSBAND WILL NEVER LOSE INTEREST IN A WIFE WHO IS ATTRACTIVE TO OTHER MEN! I HARDLY KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN MY "DEVOTED SLAVE" CALLS - I'M CURIOUS TO SEE HIM, YET MAYBE I SHOULDN'T! HE THINKS I'M SINGLE, BUT WHAT IF HE REFUSES TO CEASE HIS ATTENTIONS AFTER HE LEARNS I'M MARRIED?
DA!
SHOULD A MARRIED WOMAN ACCEPT THE ADMIRATION OF ANOTHER MAN?
GIRLS:- HOW WOULD YOU HANDLE THIS SITUATION IF YOU WERE IN TOOTSIE'S PREDICAMENT?
AND MEN:- IF YOU WERE CASPER, AND ANOTHER MAN FELL MADLY IN LOVE WITH YOUR BEAUTIFUL WIFE WHAT WOULD YOU DO?
YES, SAYS TOOTS, WHILE CASPER INWARDLY PERSPIRES JEALOUSY!
NO, SHOOTS CASPER, AS TOOTS NEEDS MANY A GRIN OVER HUBBY'S CHARMS!!
Jimmy Murphy - 8-7

New York, Aug. 7—After reaching a higher level of prices toady, stocks in the New York market crashed backward by a perverse wave of profit taking and short selling which made its appearance coincident with the heavy calling of loans by the banks.

Professionals and pools made use of the prevailing nation-wide speculative interest to whirl a few of the speculative favorites to higher price levels in the forenoon. Stocks which were supposed to have the Durant or the Cutten backing made the most spectacular advances in this period, Warner Brothers reaching a new high above 70, which compares with the March low of 22, and reflects the success of the new talking movie from a money-making standpoint. Warner was a whole market in itself, and trading in the stock did much to enliven the session.

The call loan rate was marked up to 6 1-2 per cent. In the third hour, after the banks had called in $20,000,000 and the commission houses were pressed for supplies of speculative funds. Prior to that time, however, there had been considerable selling pressure on the high-priced market favorites, the commission houses renewing their suggestions to small traders to take profits and "reduce their load" of speculative holdings particularly where advances in prices had run into six to 10 or 15 points in the last week or two.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Large supplies of sweet corn are expected on the local market by the latter part of the week, when prices are expected to take a tumble. Only a comparatively small amount of corn has been ripening, dealers say, and as a result prices have remained high. By the latter part of the week, however, much of the early corn will be ripe and it is expected the markets will be flooded. Golden bantam was selling today at 30 cents and other kinds at 25 cents. Home-grown tomatoes continue to come on the market in small quantities and dealers were asking 15 and 20 cents a pound today. While growers report their vines heavy with green tomatoes, ripening has been slow.

Blackberries are expected to be plentiful this week and next, although comparatively few were on the market today and the price was holding at 15 cents for the wild berries and 18 cents for the cultivated. Whether there will be a further drop in price as the supply becomes heavier, dealers were unable to say today. California malaga grapes were selling today at 20 cents a pound and California pears at 15 cents a pound. Georgia peaches continue plentiful and were selling readily at from $1.80 to $2.25 a bushel. Watermelons were selling today at 35, 40 and 45 cents and dealers report a large demand.

Potatoes are holding at from 23 to 80 cents a peck. The supply is large and dealers report the home-grown stock supplying almost the entire demand at the present time. Green and yellow wax beans continue fairly plentiful and were selling today at 10 cents a pound or three pounds for 25 cents. Cucumbers are holding at five, 10 and 15 cents.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 7—Grain traders were confronted with an array of bearish weekly statistics yesterday, and under general selling pressure the markets ruled weak. Wheat prices continued to sink into new low ground on the crop and the deferred futures in corn followed suit. At the close wheat was 7-8@1 1-8c lower, corn was off 7-8@1 1-2c, oats were 3-8@1-2c down and rye declined 1 3-8@1 5-8c.

While bearish weekly figures had been anticipated last week and to some extent discounted in prices then, the wheat situation displayed nothing which would tend to promote buying. Selling of the futures was general, and to this pressure was added consistent hedging sales.

Prices rallied some and closed nearly 1c above the lows, for the break in prices led shorts to accept profits, holders of the privileges also bought in a moderate way. Crop advices were all very favorable.

At the present stage of the crop and with the excellent prospects for a large yield, the trade is disposed to give close attention to export demand as the one source of constructive action. However, there is nothing bright in that phase of the situation at present. Foreign interests were again credited with selling the futures yesterday and seaboard advised of a slow demand.

Buenos Aires Weak

Some of the latter may be due to the fact that Liverpool and Winnipeg were closed for a holiday yesterday. Buenos Aires was open, but ruled weak. A little export business reported from the Gulf on the basis of 6¾c over Chicago September for No. 2 hard, but no figures were given. Prices at the Gulf have been very close to the bids for some days without attracting much interest on the part of importers.

The increase of 8,920,000 bus. in the visible supply of wheat was about as expected and was practically the same as the increase a week ago and the corresponding week a year ago. World's shipments at 12,274,000 bus. were as forecast, the same as a week ago and about 3,000,000 bus. more than a year ago.

Apparently the farmer took advantage of the good weather and high prices for corn last week by moving part of the surplus to market, for the visible supply of corn increased 1,320,000 bus. This was a large increase for this time of the season and compares with an increase of 904,000 bus. last week when prices were high and a decrease of 2,042,000 bus. for the corresponding week a year ago.

Corn prices moved sharply lower early in the session when general selling uncovered stop-loss liquidation. As in wheat, a rally was staged later on short covering to take profits.

BANS CHEWING GUM

Scotland Yard Takes Action Affecting Men on Duty

London—The use of chewing gum by members of London's police force has been banned by the Home Secretary, William Joynson-Hicks, on the grounds that it interferes with the exercise of their proper duties.

The ban was the subject of a heated debate in Parliament, during the course of which Sir William explained that one of the reasons for the restriction was that he feared the "bobbies" might inadvertently blow their gum into their whistles in time of a crisis or a traffic block.

Lady Astor, an American by birth, participated in the argument, suggested that policemen would had it difficult to answer questions properly and courteously if their mouths were full of gum.

"That is exactly why it has been prohibited," Sir William declared. "I may add that in blowing a whistle the officer might blow his gum into the whistle."

Ludicrous as it may seem, the argument was conducted deadly earnest, and the restriction has been upheld.

OHIO FAIRS BEGIN

Several Expositions Moved Up to Warmer Months

Columbus, Aug. 7—County fairs in Ohio will begin this week, it was announced here today by the state department of agriculture. Several counties have moved fairs up to August and September from the former October dates, because of cold and inclement weather encountered in the past.

From the reports reaching the department, many new and novel ideas have been incorporated into the county fairs this year, and bigger and better fairs are anticipated.

Two Cans of Puritan Malt for the Price of One

You'll be amazed at the difference between a real quality malt extract—like PURITAN — and the ordinary cheap malt syrup so commonly sold today. Without doubt, Puritan Malt Extract is the best that skill can produce and money can buy.

Puritan Malt is guaranteed to be the richest, strongest malt extract made today and the most uniform in quality. Made from choice No. 1 Minnesota Barley.

This liberal offer provides the chance to compare Puritan Malt with other brands. Don't take our word for it. Judge for yourself. Buy one can and you get one free.

The Grocer who recommends Puritan Malt Extract is trying to give you the best regardless of his own profit.

This unusual offer is being made at an enormous expense because we realize that the easiest way to get new users is to induce them to try a real quality Malt. One trial of this superior product—one example of how it can be depended upon for uniformly best results—will tell you more than we could say in ten times the space allowed here.

Clip the coupon and visit your dealer today. Buy one can and the grocer will give you one full-size can free. You get two cans for the price of one. Act!

The World's Greatest Tire--

And Why It Is!

You have to show some very good reasons for calling anything "the world's greatest."

Goodyear is "The World's Greatest Tire" because it wears smoothly—runs farther—looks better. Not generalities, but FACTS!

Millions of motorists have proved them on the road, for—

More People Ride on Goodyear Tires Than on Any Other Kind

Goodyear is the World's Greatest Tire because it is the only tire providing complete traction on the center of the tread:

Because it has six outstanding advantages—Traction; Supertwist Carcass; slow, even tread wear; quiet, smooth running; Safety; Beauty. More than 100,000,000 Goodyear Tires have been sold—millions more than any other.

Waldo, Aug. 7—The annual [illegible] of the Phiersch family was held [illegible] at the Wiestsone Grange hall [illegible] of town with a large number [illegible]. After the picnic dinner a musical program was presented. Misses [illegible] Cook and Mildred Kreis contributed a piano duet; Miss Hilda Wiseman and Rudolph Wiseman presented a [illegible] and guitar duet and Miss Iza Rossman gave a piano solo.

The election of officers followed. William Phiersch was named president; Miss Hilda Wiseman, secretary and William Wiseman, treasurer.

IN CITY COURT

$40 Check Results in Filing of Charge Against E. E. Mason

Charged with giving a check for $40 on the Marion National bank when he did not have that much money on deposit, E. E. Mason, who formerly conducted a store on Main st., was arrested yesterday and taken to police headquarters. He was later released on bond for his appearance in court Saturday morning.

Mason was arrested on an affidavit filed in municipal court by Tom Basacus, who claimed that a check he received from Mason on May 21, was returned to him by the bank marked "Insufficient funds."

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HOLDS AUGUST MEETING

Waldo, Aug. 7—The August meeting of the Y. P. A. class of St. Joseph's Reformed Sunday school was held Friday night at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaufler, south of here with a large attendance.

After a song and devotional service the time was spent with stunts and contests. A covered dish luncheon was served. One new member, Mrs. Cleo Porterfield was enrolled. Guests present were Mrs. Louise Moyer, Arthur Denzer and Harvey Kreis.

Pretending you are interested when you are not, is the easiest thing detected.

Her MAIL-ORDER husband!

Read in September TRUE STORY the fascinating story of this girl who believed that marriage should be a business proposition—and made it so.

ALL the marriages she knew of seemed to prove that love was blind — so to get her husband she mailed a coupon! Let experts recommend him!—as bankers recommend a bond.

Only this would be a marriage bond. Not an adventure, but an enterprise. A merger of souls, not a union.

And so she found herself traveling—a little frightened now—a thousand dreary miles to meet and marry "Mark Stevenson, age 35. Generous, good-tempered, affectionate, handsome. Plantation owner."

Idly she visioned the quiet luxury and culture of life in the Old South, in the picturesque foothills of Arkansas. These she understood were largely owned by Mr. Stevenson.

Then came an hour that was like a fantastic dream. Could this be Stevenson, the handsome plantation owner, this lean taciturn stranger she had wed in the dim light of the parsonage? Was this his carriage and pair, this creaky old buck-board?

Mile after mile she clung to the seat at his side, in an agony of tears and mortification. Surely this was some cruel pretense, to test her resolution!... Or had she, too, been merely advertised for and bought? . . On and on they jolted and creaked — the business girl and her coupon husband! Well, she would see it through until tomorrow, until—

But you will want to read for yourself this amazing, true story as Virginia herself tells it—complete in September TRUE STORY—out today! By what a miracle this mail-order marriage became a tremendous adventure! The situation that followed—more amazing than the wedding. Don't miss this great story, "Strange Bondage" — with 14 other great stories and many exclusive features — in September TRUE STORY. Be sure to get your copy today!

CAUTION URGED TO HALT CAR THEFTS

Failure To Lock Machines Swells Robbery Toll, Marion Club Secretary Says

Care in locking the car as a means of reducing the number of automobile thefts was urged by Mrs. D. V. Gallagher, secretary of the Marion Auto Club in a statement issued today. In spite of the locking devices now provided by builders of automobiles, owners continue to extend an invitation to automobile thieves by leaving their cars unlocked.

"There is no surer way to have a car stolen than to make everything so easy that all the thief has to do is to seat himself at the wheel, step on the starter and drive off," Mrs. Gallagher said. "It is virtually an invitation to steal, and it is difficult enough for the police to cope with the activities of the professional automobile thief without deliberately putting oneself in his clutches.

"No man who owned any other property worth one or two thousand dollars or more would be so careless of its safety. He would lock up the same amount invested in bonds or jewelry, yet there are many persons who leave a valuable automobile standing so that it may easily be stolen."

Too many motorists feel that their theft insurance provides all the protection necessary the secretary pointed out. This, she declares, invites a loss to themselves and is unfair to the company which insures them.

"Theft insurance should be carried by every motorist," says the secretary, "but his obligation does not end with insuring it. He still should exercise reasonable protection of his property. To fail to do so is to bring about eventual monetary loss which is unnecessary. As a car depreciates, the amount which the owner may expect in the event of theft also decreases, so that replacing the car will entail an expense which can be avoided.

"The number of stolen automobiles has undergone a reduction, traceable largely to the tightening up of law enforcement and the greater car shown by car owners. Enforcement of the law however can be nullified by negligence on the part of owners of motor cars. When they realize that leaving an unlocked car on the street is depriving it of virtually all protection, a still greater reduction in the number of car thefts may be recorded," Mrs. Gallagher states.

$10,000 Is Expended in Program of Improvements Made at Hotel Harding

Lunch Room Enlarged to Double Its Former Seating Capacity; New Ventilating System for Kitchen Included in List of Various Added Facilities

Improvements involving the expenditure of approximately $10,000 are in progress at the present time at Hotel Harding.

The most extensive improvement was enlargement of the lunch room. The hotel barber shop was changed from the east to the west side of the West Center st., entrance and the lunch room, located at the extreme northeast corner of the building, was enlarged to occupy the space formerly used by the barber shop.

Doubles Capacity

The seating capacity in the lunch room was doubled, so that it now accommodates 80 persons at one time. A lunch counter and seats were installed and new black tops, which have not arrived, were purchased for the dining tables. The entire room was repainted and redecorated and new lighting fixtures installed.

On account of the structure being built just east of the hotel, it was necessary to provide new ventilating system in the hotel kitchen. The new system now being installed provides a complete change of air every three minutes. New electric refrigeration and kitchen equipment, including new coffee urns, were installed in the kitchen and lunch room.

New Curtains and Papers

New curtains were hung in the lunch room and new drapes and lighting fixtures will brighten up the main dining room in the near future.

Other improvements about the building include the repainting and repapering of the upper halls and a number of guest rooms and reupholstering of the furniture in the mezzanine and in the lobby. Work of redecorating the building is expected to be complete about Sept. 1.

Veteran Mail Carrier Sets All-Weather Service Mark

Raymore, Mo., Aug. 7—While Missouri is pretty proud of Colonel Lindbergh, the former air-mail pilot who flew to fame overnight, local folks think right highly of Robert A. Simeral, Missouri's first mail carrier and one of the middlewest's pioneer postmen.

With the exception of Lindy's specialty, the mail-plane, Simeral has used nearly every known American conveyance during his 27 years he has worked on the same route here. People who live in roundabout Raymore have had their weekly papers and mail order catalogues delivered to them by cart, wagon, motor car and on horseback.

Used Tractor

There is also a story here that Simeral, once during a bad wet spell, when the roads were practially impassible, covered part of his route on a caterpillar tractor borrowed from a neighbor.

"Shanks Mare" which any native will interpret for you as meaning "on foot," was another popular method of mail conveyance during the winter season, when the snow lay in six foot drifts along the cowpaths which led to some of the farms which Simeral served.

While no such publicity as that given to Sepella, when he carried the serum to Nome by dog sled, attended Simeral's not infrequent duties of physician, many are the croupy babies and ailing mothers, isolatedn o their snow-bound farms, who found relief in the medicine carried to them in Simeral's old worn mail sack.

Visits Welcome

Like the visits of the country doctor Simeral's daily call is always something of an event. Any bright day when the strenuous duties of planting or the harvest do not monopolize their time there will always be a farmer or two or the farmer's wife, waiting at the big iron mail box for a sociable chat.

Simeral, who was 23 years old when he started to work for Uncle Sam, now is fifty. His route was started here in 1901 as an experiment. There was at that time no other rural mail delivery in the United States except in the thickly settled districts of the East.

EXPLAINS WARRANT

U. S. Treasury Representative Says Blackmer Wanted for Perjury

Paris, Aug. 7—Arthur Diebert, an agent of the United States treasury department, called upon the ministry of justice today to explain the warrant which has been issued for the arrest of Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness.

Blackmer is not wanted in connection with the Teapot Dome inquiry, but is accused in the federal court at Denver, Colo., of perjury. Blackmer is alleged to have perjured himself in making out an income tax paper.

Diebert told the French officials that Blackmer's alleged crime falls under the statute of limitations, but is not yet outlawed. He said that the warrant is good for three more years before the statute of limitations voids it.

ENTERTAIN CLASS AT WALDO HOME

Waldo, Aug. 7—Miss Dorothy Gerlin and Ralph Gerlin, Friday night entertained the C. I. C. class and teacher, Mrs. B. D. Osborn, of the Reformed Sunday school at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gerlin, west of town. Twelve members responded to roll call.

During the business hour the class planned to present a program during the Sunday School hour on next Sunday. Ralph Mack and Donald Augenstein were visitors.

Columbus, Aug. 7—Fifteen employes of the Pennsylvania railroad today had received gold service buttons, conferred by the railroad on those who have completed 50 years service.

Three of the men are still in active service. They are J. M. Littleton, Columbus, blacksmith; Andrew Toole, Columbus, gang foreman, and C. D. Slifer, Richmond, Ind., freight agent.

Others honored: James H. Smith, Newark; Dan Laws Smith, Columbus; Thomas McGrath, Richmond, Ind., and Thomas M. Walsh, James Taylor, John F. Nachton, Richard Mills, John Reilly, Nicholas J. Condy, and James E. Ganson, all of Columbus.

McGrath holds the longest record of continuous employment with 53 years and six months to his credit. He is a foreman.

LEAGUE MEETS

Lutheran Group Holds August Session at Waldo Church

Waldo, Aug. 7—The August meeting of the Lutheran League was held in the basement parlors of the church with the Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Long, Miss Dorothy Burnosky and Raymond Burnosky serving.

During the social period a contest was held. High honors were awarded Miss Alice Augenstein and William Fogle. In a chair contest Miss Dorothy Rengert, Harry Stine were winners. During the business session scripture quotations were given in response to roll call. A fellowship service followed during which new members were initiated into the league.

The September meeting will be held at the same place. Misses Mildred, Cleo, Alice and Ralph Augenstein will entertain.

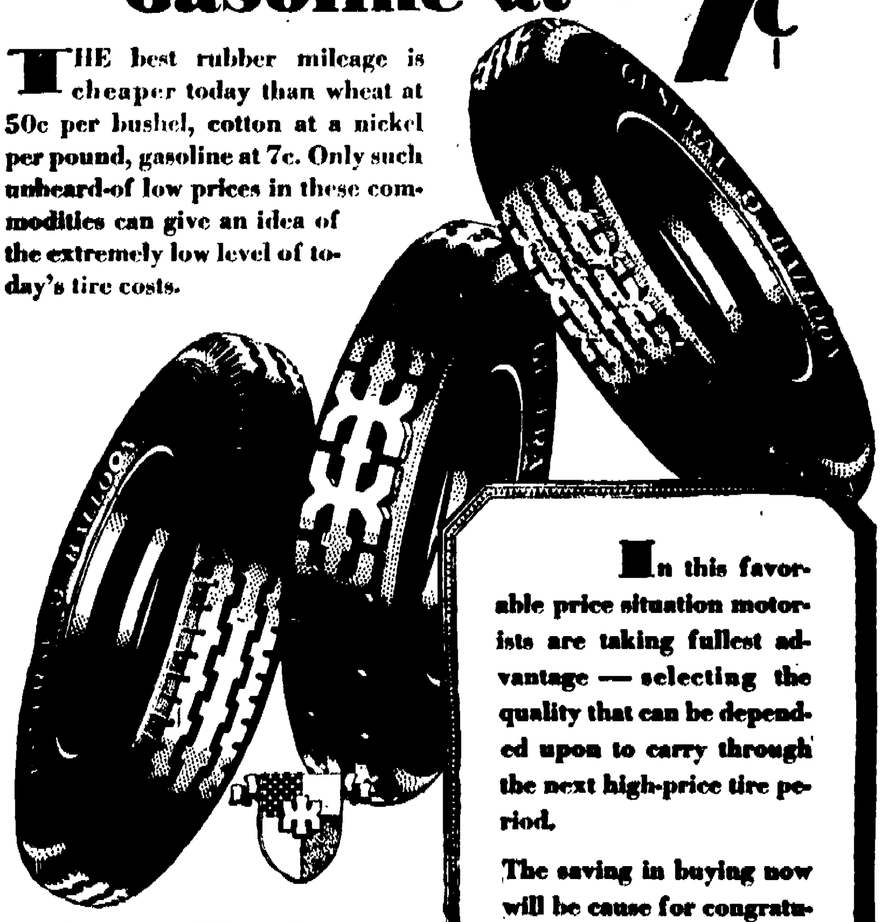
Like wheat at 50¢, Cotton at a nickel, Gasoline at ~ 7¢

THE best rubber mileage is cheaper today than wheat at 50c per bushel, cotton at a nickel per pound, gasoline at 7c. Only such unheard-of low prices in these commodities can give an idea of the extremely low level of today's tire costs.



In this favorable price situation motorists are taking fullest advantage — selecting the quality that can be depended upon to carry through the next high-price tire period.

The saving in buying now will be cause for congratulation more than once in the seasons to come.

Tire Prices Lowest Ever

With crude rubber selling below production figures, today there is no such thing as a high priced tire. Even the top quality tire is low priced now --costing less than was formerly paid for tires of ordinary service.

But economy isn't the only big feature of today's tire buying opportunity. Freedom from trouble is more important to tire users, in this fast moving age, than ever before—and the supreme safety and riding comfort, the serene peace of mind that goes with General's uninterrupted mileage, will alone sell you the top quality idea for all time--even should tire prices rebound to their highest peak.

Dr. C. J. Nichols, County Republican Committeeman, Resumes Attack on Cooper

Criticism of Gubernatorial Candidate's Party Record Made Two Years Ago Is Again Basis of Allegations in Letter Sent to Member of Local Cooper Organization

Dr. C. J. Nichols, member of the Marion County Republican central committee who stirred up the political pot with an attack on the gubernatorial candidacy of Myers Y. Cooper two weeks ago, is again on the battle-front with guns in action.

In an open letter dated Aug. 5, Dr. Nichols resumes his war on Cooper, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. The letter is addressed to Col. George B. Christian, member of the Marion County Cooper-for-Governor committee.

Answer to Advertisement

It is written as an answer to an advertisement in behalf of the Cooper candidacy which appeared in The Star of Aug. 4 over the names of the county committee members.

There are 21 members of the committee but Dr. Nichols addresses his letter directly to Colonel Christian, presumably because he lists the latter as a Democrat.

Dr. Nichols, who has been active in local politics many years, represents precinct F of the first ward as a member of the county Republican committee. He is a former mayor of the city.

Although he makes no definite statement in his letter, Dr. Nichols is reported to be supporting Congressman James T. Begg for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

His letter to Colonel Christian follows:

Text of Letter

"Colonel George B. Christian, Marion, Ohio.

"Dear Colonel:

"I noticed in the issue of the Marion Star of August 4, that you assumed to recommend to the Republican voters of Marion county, one Myers Y. Cooper. You state in your recommendation that he has for 25 years been one of the leading Republicans of Ohio.

"Of course, you ought to know that Mr. Cooper was opposed to one of his fellow townsmen, William Howard Taft, in 1912, and through his efforts contributed to the defeat of Mr. Taft. You ought to know that Myers Y. Cooper was one of the delegates of the First congressional district to the Republican convention in 1920 and on the sixth ballot he bolted Mr. Harding. Are we to assume that you recommend to the Republicans of Marion county, Ohio, the leadership of a man who opposed one Ohio president and tried to prevent the nomination of another?

"The Republican primary on August 14 is a family affair. Republicans should seek to know the respective candidates. Do you not think that you are presuming a great deal as a Democrat to recommend to the Republicans whom they should support? You state that your candidate is entitled to the nomination this year. Do you not know that two years ago he failed to carry his own ward and county and this defeat came from the best residential district in Cincinnati? Do you not remember that two years ago in the primaries, he lost Marion county two to one to the leading candidates and ran third, that in the election he lost Marion county, when county officers were elected by majorities as high as 4,000? Is is not the duty of the Republicans of Marion county to back the nomination of a man who can be elected in November and lend strength to the ticket and not be a burden?

"I am writing this as an open letter and should be glad to have you offer an explanation."

Yours very truly,
C. J. Nichols.

tain intersection, only 1,400 observed the stop sign and brought their cars to a halt. He also said that at Leader and Silver sts. and Oak and Silver sts., between 11:55 and 12:10 o'clock yesterday, 87 motorists failed to bring their cars to a stop.

A similar condition, he said, existed at practically all of the stop street intersections, with the exception of the intersections of Church st., Vine st. and Mt. Vernon av., where he said a general tendency to observe the stop signs was shown by motorists.

The campaign to eliminate this type of violator will be carried on, the chief declared, until motorists have learned that it is the intention of city officials to enforce the ordinance.

Much trouble has also been experienced by out-of-town cars failing to stop, which results in confusion to motorists coming from the cross streets. This presents a more difficult problem, both for the reason that it is the wish of the city to extend every courtesy to visitors and also for the reason that, not being familiar with the local ordinances, the visitor many times overlooks the stop sign.

Friday has been fixed by Municipal Judge W. R. Martin, as traffic day in his court and it is expected the notices will reach the motorists on time to enable them to appear in court at that time.

LOCAL LEGION POST SELECTS DELEGATES

Will Attend State Convention To Be Held in Columbus, Aug. 20-21

T. E. Kinnear, Don Jones, Charles Howard and Dr. James W. McMurray have been chosen delegates to the tenth annual convention of the Ohio department of the American Legion at Columbus Aug. 20-21, by Bird McGinnis post, No. 162, it was announced today.

The alternates are Grant E. Mouser Jr., Carl Ebert, D. J. McDonald and Chris Turroff. A number of other members of the local post are expected to attend.

A feature of the business session of the convention will be selection of Ohio delegates to the national legion convention in San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 8 to 12. J. J. Saslavsky, Columbus, Ohio department adjutant, will have charge of the Ohio delegation in Texas.

About 10,000 convention visitors are expected at Columbus for the legion sessions. Major General John A. LeJeune, commanding officer of the United States Marine corps, and Paul V. Claudel, French ambassador, are two of the speakers.

Man Arrested in Marion Gets Sentence in Columbus Court

Lynn Adkins, Columbus salesman, was sentenced to one year in the Columbus workhouse and fined $1,000 in Franklin county juvenile court today on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Mildred Huffman, a minor.

Adkins was re-arrested last Friday in Pennsylvania after having escaped from a deputy sheriff taking him to Columbus from Marion, where he had been trapped by Miss Huffman and officers, several weeks ago.

YOUNG DOCTOR SLAIN BY JEALOUS WIFE

Long Island Woman Stabs Husband with Bread Knife; Hears Gossip

New York, Aug. 7—Mrs. Frances Kirkwood, 25 and attractive, today killed her husband, Dr. Glenn Kirkwood, 30, with a bread knife during a quarrel in their home at Sunnyside Gardens, Woodside, L. I., according to the police, who said the young woman admitted she was goaded into a jealous rage over his alleged attentions to other women.

She is held on a charge of murder. She told the police, they said, that she became so exasperated during an argument with her husband in the kitchen of their home, about 5 o'clock this morning, that she turned on him with a bread knife.

The tragedy was brought about, she explained, by neighborhood gossip concerning her husband's alleged friendship with other women while Mrs. Kirkwood was on a four weeks' vacation at Lake Ronkonkoma, L. I.

Dr. Kirkwood died on the operating table at St. John's hospital, Long Island City, three hours after he was stabbed.

opinion of the inspector, for the reason that in making sewer connections from homes, the sanitary sewer is sometimes tapped into the storm water drain and also for the reason that many of the streets have but one sewer for both the sanitary and stormwater.

Thorough Check Required

To eliminate the pollution entirely would mean a house-to-house check of every sewer connection and the building of a great many additional sewers, Tozzer says.

The Mansfield Savings Bank & Trust Co., of Mansfield, was the successful bidder for the $6,050 bond issue offered by the city yesterday. The Mansfield bank was high bidder on its offer of a premium of $30. The bids were opened in the office of City Auditor J. L. Landes, yesterday.

Other Bidders

Other bidders were the Taylor Wilson Co., of Cincinnati, who offered a premium of $6 and the First Citizens' Corporation, of Columbus, whose bid was a premium of $2. Because of the small issue and the fact that the bonds paid but five per cent, little interest was shown by the larger bond buying companies.

The bonds were of $500 denomination, with the exception of one for $550. They were dated July 1, of this year and will bear interest at the rate of five percent, payable on the first day of March and September of each year.

CONTRACTS ARE LET BY SCHOOL BOARD

Bus Transportation Cost in Marion Township Totals $2,180.25 for Next Year

It will cost Marion township $2,180.25 to transport pupils to the four schools attended by children of the township during the coming terms. This figure is the total of four contracts awarded by the township board of education recently for hauling pupils to the four schools.

Approximately 50 pupils in the township live two miles or more from the school building in their district. The board of education is required to provide transportation for these. The cost of transporting each pupils for the nine-month term is $43.61.

Contracts were awarded by the board after bids had been received for the second time. The first bids were rejected because the board considered them too high.

A. F. Smith was awarded the contract for hauling pupils to the Campbell school. His bid was $64.50 a month. E. R. Shields was given the contract for transporting pupils to the Silver Street school in Marion. His bid was $63.25 a month. Contract for hauling pupils to the Starner school was awarded to John Holland at a bid of $59.50. C. M. Peterson was successful bidder for transportation of pupils to the Clark school. His bid was $55 a month.

CAMP COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT INSPECTION

Boy Scout Quarters To Be Given Official Rating in Visit Wednesday

Under the direction of Charles Lasly, chairman, the camp committee of the Harding Area of Boy Scouts will inspect Camp John A. Owens at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

From the results of the inspection the National Scout council will rate the camp. The last rating was exceptionally good, being "B plus 43 points." Members of the committee are appointed from Marion, Bucyrus and Mt. Gilead.

In making the rating of the camp and recommendations to the national council, the committee considers the camp grounds, sanitation, equipment, buildings, food supply, water, business management, personnel and swimming.

PLANE LAND SAFELY

Bucyrus, Aug. 7—Lieut. Lionel Demarmier, Belgian aviator, who left Le Bourget, France, at 5:35 a. m. today, arrived here at 3:20 p. m. on the last leg of his flight to Cleveland. Demarmier was forced down here by motor trouble.

Heflin Has Not Decided Whether He'll Support Smith

Washington, Aug. 7—Whether Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, will receive the support of Senator Thomas Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, depends entirely upon what Smith says in his acceptance speech, Senator Heflin declared today.

"I am not yet ready to say whether I will or will not support Smith," Heflin said, adding, "there are several things which he must make clear in his acceptance speech before I make up my mind, among which is the race question. I am waiting to see if Smith will declare for the supremacy of the white race."

displacement is 200 tons at the surface and 318 when submerged. It is about 150 feet in length.

The sinking of the F-14 is similar in many respects to the sinking of the American submarine S-4 on Dec. 4, 1927, off Provincetown, Mass.

The last serious disaster to Italian underseas craft occurred in August, 1925, when the submarine Sebastiano Venitero, with 50 men aboard, disappeared during naval manouvers off Sicily and was never found.

Officials Optimistic

Believe Sunken Submarine Can Be Raised Soon

Rome, Aug. 7—Navy officials were optimistic today that the Italian submarine F-14 which was sunk in 131 feet of water in the Adriatic with 31 men on board could be raised.

Radio telephone communication was established with the crew of the submersible.

Divers went down and ascertained that the stern compartments of the submarine were not flooded. When this report was made the government rushed salvage work so as to save the members of the crew.

In Rear Compartment

The F-14 was engaged in coast patrol duty when it met in collision with the destroyer early yesterday morning. It was feared that the members of the crew were lost but radio telephone communication showed they were still alive and had taken refuge in the rear part of the underwater craft which was not flooded.

Divers spent the night trying to raise the submarine. They operated from the crusier Aquila which stood by to give any help it could. After the divers succeeded in getting a chain underneath the submarine it was expected that attempts would be made to raise it later in the day and anchor it to floating drums.

PHONE COMPANIES BOUGHT BY UNITED

Marysville and Milford Center Concerns Involved in Deal

Columbus, Aug. 7—The state utilities commission today authorized the United Telephone Co., Bellefontaine, to purchase all of the property, rights and other assets of the Union County Telephone Co., Marysville, for $130,808, and of the Milford Center Telephone Co., Milford Center, for $10,102.

The commission granted the United Telephone Co. permission to issue and sell at not less than par, $150,000, par value, of its six per cent preferred stock. The proceeds are to be used in paying for these properties.

It was decreed by the commission that, within 30 days after these properties are sold the selling companies shall retire and cancel all of their issued and outstanding shares of common stock except directors' qualifying shares and that the remaining shares shall be retired as soon as practical.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS FILED IN COURT HERE

Husbands Are Plaintiffs in Both; Executor of Reber Estate Sues on Note

Two petitions for divorce were filed in common pleas court today. Both were filed by the husbands.

Buchtel Thompson seeks divorce from Bertha Thompson. According to the petition they were married in Portsmouth, March 28, 1926. They have one child.

The plaintiff charges gross neglect for three years. He is represented by attorney Homer E. Johnson.

Charging gross neglect and extreme cruelty, Earl Clifford George has filed petition for divorce from Margaret J. George. They are the parents of one child. W. N. Harder represents the plaintiff.

Both plaintiffs ask the court to award them the custody of the children.

Suit on Note

Henry C. Cass, executor of the estate of Lemot Reber, has filed suit in common pleas court against Minnie E. Crowman and Edward H. Crowman for collection of a note of $6,250. According to the petition, the note is secured by real estate in Marion.

was 10 yards back of the new record holder at the finish of the heat.

Just before the German girl started her record race, Miss Helen Meany, New York, foremost diver, cut her head in practicing on the diving board, the injury requiring several stitches. The injury proved to be a minor one, however, and Miss Meany announced immediately that she would not let it interfere with her competition.

Queen Appears

In the regular stadium, quite a stir was occasioned by the appearance of Queen Wilhelmina in the royal box for the first time during the games. She watched with interest the parade of gymnasts from Holland, Hungary and Germany and a mass-drill then put on directly afterward.

The Hollander, Miss Baron, had a chance to reclaim her old record in the second heat but was beaten by another German, Fraulein Muhe, in 3:14 1-5, which also bettered the former record. Miss Baron managed to take second place after a stern brush with Miss Gertrude Hoffman, Kingston Pa., the latter was only two feet behind Miss Baron at the finish and may qualify by getting the best time among those finishing third in the heats. Fraulein Muhe won the heat by 10 yards.

In the third elimination heat, Miss Jane Fauntz, Illinois Women's A. C., Chicago, finished second, being beaten by Miss Van Norden, Holland, in 3:27 1-5.

Miss Hoffman Qualifies

At this point, it was announced, that Miss Hoffman had qualified for the semi-finals by tieing with Miss Haselius, Sweden, for the best time of the third place winners, 3:21 3-5.

The Jap, Tusurtas, set a new Olympic record of 2:40 1-5 in winning his semi-final heat of the men's breast stroke event, with Spence, Canada, second. Thomas Blankenberg, Oakland, Cal., was a distant fourth in this heat, failing to qualify for the final.

Rademacher, Germany, the world's record holder for the distance at 2:48, was hard pressed to win the second semi-final from Harling, Sweden. Another German, Sietas, was third. Rademacher was time in 2:56 3-5.

Clarence Crabbe, Honlulu, easily won his heat in the 400-metre swim, free style, with Yoneyama, Japan, second. Crabbe won by seven yards, without extending himself in 5:09 4-5.

In another elimination heat of the 400- metre, free style, Arne Borg, the great Swede, gave one of his typical performances by beating Ray Ruddy, New York, A. C., by 15 yards. Borg was clocked in 5:09 3-5.

Takaishi, Japan, made much slower time, 5:22 4-5, in winning another of the 400-metre heats. He, however, had the distinction of beating "Boy" Charlton the noted Australian, who finished second.

EIGHT NOW DEAD

Wrecking Crews Still Search for Victims; 200 Injured

Mounds, Ill., Aug. 7—With the right of way cleared to permit the running of trains, wrecking crews today still were searching the tangled mass of upturned sleeping cars for possible other victims of the Illinois Central wreck here yesterday morning.

The disaster occurred after a sewer pipe which had dropped from a freight car, derailed the northbound Chickasaw Limited bound from Memphis to St. Louis. A half minute later, train No. 5, southbound from Chicago to New Orleans roared along and crashed into the derailed Chickasaw.

The known dead today stood at eight. Two hundred were injured, 8 of whom were taken to hospitals at Cairo, Ill. Two of the latter may die, it was said.

MISSOURI AT POLLS TO NAME CANDIDATES

Reed's Entrance into Senatorial Fight Enlivens Race; Assails Hay

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 7—Missourians went to the polls today to select candidates for one United States senator, a governor, congressmen and numerous state and county offices.

Chief interest was displayed in the Democratic race for senatorial nomination where Charles M. Hay, St. Louis "dry" leader has staged a campaign against James A. Collet of Salisbury who opposes the Volstead act.

The campaign was enlivened by the entry of Senator James A. Reed who supports Collet and charged Hay was "an enemy to the Al Smith ticket." Senator Reed is retiring from the senate after his present term expires.

Attempt To Assassinate Polish Premier Valdemaras Seen

Warsaw, Aug. 7—A plot to assassinate Premier Valdemaras of Lithuania, has been discovered at Kovno, according to the Polish official newspaper Glosprawdy. This newspaper, which is the official mouthpiece of War Minister Marshal Pilsudski, said that several other ministers in addition to Premier Valdemaras were marked for death. Several arrests have been made.

FOURTH CRASH VICTIM IS DEAD AT RAVENNA

Ravenna, Aug. 7—A. A. Sout, 62, of Mogadore, near Akron, died in a hospital here today, the fourth victim of a grade crossing crash north of here Sunday afternoon when an automobile driven by him was hit by an Erie passenger train. The other victims who were killed instantly, were Mrs. Sout, 60, and two grandchildren, Geraldine, 7, and Marjorie, 14.

LEAGUE FIGHT END NOT YET IN SIGHT

Franklin County Dry Leader Questions Motives of Moore

Columbus, Aug. 7—Although Dr. E. C. Moore, superintendent, has made public his explanation of the course he pursued in compiling the Ohio Anti-Saloon league's primary election "white list," it was not accepted as satisfactory by many of his critics and today there were no signs of an end to the controversy in the near future.

The latest assault upon Dr. E. C. Moore, league superintendent, was by Col. Worthington Kantzman, Franklin county dry leader and churchman. He demanded to know "why does the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio feel that it should indorse only one Republican gubernatorial candidate and at the same time gives endorsement to two Democratic gubernatorial candidates."

Colonel Kantzman added that he had read with "chagrin and humiliation" Dr. Moore's explanation of his reason for the endorsement of Myers Y. Cooper. This explanation was issued last Saturday.

Among other developments were:

Former Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, Columbus, assailed the Anti-Saloon league endorsement of Cooper by letter and in an address by radio from WAIU.

Billy Sunday, evangelist, paid tribute to Cooper as the Republican gubernatorial candidate in an address at Franklin, O.

VARE' CONDITION MORE HOPEFUL; HAS APPETITE

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7—United States Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania has developed a hearty appetite and his condition is "more hopeful," it was announced early today by Dr. Elwood R. Kirby. Dr. Kirby has been attending the senator-elect since Vare suffered a paralytic stroke at his summer home near here last week.

Vare is not aware that his left side is partially paralyzed, but suspects there is "something wrong" with his left hand, Dr. Kirby said.

The Battle of Bankruptcy.

In every way Gene Tunney has made the entire business of fisticuffs look foolish. He has beaten the gladiators, the promoters and the parasites. He has knocked the temple of fistiana flatter than Joe Beckett, the horizontal champion of England. He has made himself so invincible that any of the futile looking contenders left in the sport would look silly against him.

There is panic in the cauliflower market. Mr. Tex Rickard still is on the financial canvas and is taking a much longer count than ever one of his gladiators took. As a matter of fact, they still are counting over him with an adding machine. For the first time in twenty-one years the financier of the million-dollar gates is checking up his losses. He took one square on his pocketbook when he sent Tom Heeney in there as a match for Tunney.

And having beaten the game from every angle it is apparent to any one who knows Tunney that he will show his continued superiority for it by forgetting it. The man with the will to beat prizefighting has the will to make the victory final. Gene Tunney never was and today is not a natural born killer or prizefighter. He perfected himself as the world's greatest one-man fighting machine for one purpose—to make it pay him big money. He was not only successful in becoming the sport's greatest boxer, but he has accumulated more than sufficient money for all his wants the remainder of his life.

The outlook for the heavyweight cauliflower industry is decidedly lugubrious. There is nobody for Tunney to fight. He stands out above any of the heavyweights of the day higher than did the dull giant, Jeffries, when he was forced into retirement because there was no contender who could give him battle. And the superiority of Tunney to the contenders of the current writing is infinitely more strongly marked.

And among those who will approve of the permanent retirement of Tunney from the prize ring will be a large number of the so-called experts. He has baffled them at every turn.

The George B. Knapp Candidacy.

Those of us who have the responsibility of running a newspaper—the only one to which the entire community can turn for information on local affairs—feel that the job is a tremendously important one. That responsibility is never, in this office, treated lightly. And it very frequently happens that outside counsel, and the views of dependable, honest-minded citizens must be sought. The source of such advice is almost as important as the job of our passing it on through the channels of our columns, because it is thought to be so easy and so resultful in influencing public opinion this way or that through the newspaper.

In following these processes, it is quite natural that we should turn to men whom we know well, in whose judgment and absolute integrity we have the fullest confidence—men who become personally, quite intimately attached to the newspaper circle.

It is, the reader may believe, a most serious undertaking to place the stamp of approval on any person or any project in which the newspaper-reading public has a direct interest. And recommendations by the Marion Star are not easily obtained. However, here is a man who, without the slightest intimation to any member of the Star organization, without consulting any member of its force in any manner, directly or indirectly, becomes a candidate for a highly-important office upon which the Star's readers must vote. With years of the closest contact that would give many men a feeling of obligation, he has not yet solicited a word of newspaper support for his candidacy.

During these years, something like half a dozen, we have not only found his views concerning public affairs alike excellent and tenable—the manifest reflections of a high degree of civic patriotism—but also have found his judgment equally sound in problems of organization, business affairs and personal matters; and we have yet to find him, in any project for the upbuilding and betterment of the community, moved in the slightest degree by self-interest. More than this, each passing year has heightened our respect for his intelligent analysis of things in general.

Such association as this can not be mutually agreeable and pleasant without a basic foundation of sturdy honesty, and so it is that we speak thus of George B. Knapp, who is a candidate for congress in this district. We do not know why he seeks the place, but we do know that if Washington were controlled, in its legislative branches, by men of his caliber, we would have much more intelligent lawmakers, better representatives under a form of government that does not always get the best, and a type of honesty that would be immediately recognized and appreciated by the folks back home.

Having been stung as a result of the European interpretation of the disarmament plan he put through, Uncle Sam can't help but wonder how much worse he would be stung should he become a party to one of European construction.

According to a captious Chicago paper, but fifteen per cent. of the city officials up there are on their jobs Saturday afternoons. If the character of Windy City officialdom is anything like what the same paper holds out, the half-holiday tendency should afford Chicagoans considerable relief.

Dr. Work sees farm support lost to Governor Smith as a result of the governor's slap at the equalization fee. We would rather believe that the bumper crops throughout the West and the Great Northwest are the active agents in alienating such support as the New Yorker may have had.

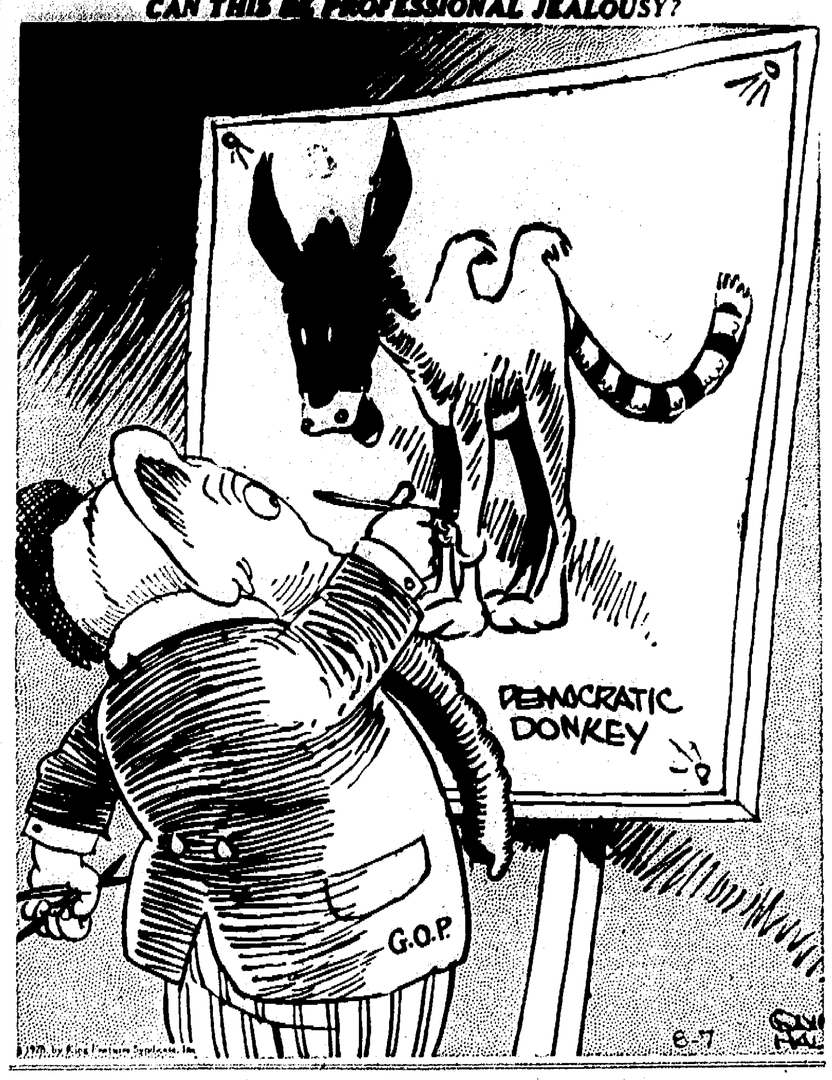
Roads constructed under American direction and supervision are said to have created a great demand for motor cars in Persia. Over here, we went at it the other way. We first acquired the cars and then mortgaged the future to construct the roads over which to run them.

An American engineer plans to change the climate of all North Africa by creating a great inland sea in the Desert of Sahara. If temperatures in this great garden spot of the world do not soon get back to normal, it wouldn't be a bad scheme to see what we can do toward creating a great inland sea hereabouts.

The census bureau estimates that New York City has a population of 6,024,671. Possibly it has, but it has been our observation that the census estimate made a year or two before the decennial census period invariably have to be cut something like ten or fifteen per cent. to agree with the actual figures of the succeeding census, which, it may be said, is one reason why we do not expect our own home city to have a population of 36,000 in 1930.

The great red demonstration which was to have been held in a suburb of Paris, Sunday, proved a decided fizzle, not so much because of lack of red enthusiasm, but rather because of the fact that the Paris prefect of police had two or three policemen on hand for every agitator who appeared, over 1,000 agitators being carted away and lodged in prison. The communists made the mistake of giving their demonstration too much preliminary publicity.

CAN THIS BE PROFESSIONAL JEALOUSY?



A Reason for Headache.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D

There is always a definite reason for a headache. It is not cured when you take headache medicine. It may be covered up or held in check by the tablet or wafer. But the cause remains.

There are many causes for headache. One of them is failure of kidney action. Constantly recurring headaches for which no obvious cause can be found, as, for instance, exposure to the hot sun or other intense heat, may possibly come from some kidney disturbance.

When there is serious kidney disease there are apt to be other symptoms than headache. The skin may appear waxy. Its natural glow and color disappear.

Puffiness of the eyelids and swelling of the ankles may be symptoms. When the shoes and stockings are removed, it is found that the legs are swollen and soggy-like. When you press the skin with your finger, it leaves a dent or pit.

Usually kidney trouble shows itself, too, by loss of appetite, bad breath and gradual decrease in weight. Certain skin conditions may be due to it.

There may be sickness at the stomach and vomiting. Fever may be present. In every way there is evidence of real illness in most cases of serious kidney disease.

On the other hand, the presence of kidney involvement may be unsuspected. The symptoms I have mentioned, together with pain in the back and changes in the physical appearance of the urine, may be utterly lacking.

Everybody these days preaches the importance of frequent physical examinations. No such survey is considered complete unless it includes a thorough testing of the urine.

I am sorry to say there are advertising "laboratories" where very imperfect and unscientific examinations of the urine are made. Let me say at once, however, that their number is small. The laboratories the doctors recommend are honestly and scientifically conducted.

Have your doctor test the urine or have him recommend a good place to have it done. If you are past fifty this should be done every year and it should be done occasionally by everybody, young and old.

Careful tests will reveal the kidney condition and tell the story of whether or not these organs are performing their functions in a normal manner.

It costs little to forestall disease. Early knowledge means restoration to health and to the average expectation of life. You can not afford to neglect the simple things which make for health and vigor.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

H. B. What should a boy weigh who is sixteen and one-half years old and five feet nine inches tall?

2—How can I gain weight?

A—For his age and height he should weigh about 141 pounds.

2—Try to eat your meals at regular hours, including plenty of milk, cream, fresh eggs and green vegetables. Add to your diet fresh and stewed fruit. Make sure that your kidneys and bowels eliminate properly. A good body builder and general tonic might prove beneficial. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Editorial Opinion.

SITTING ON TOP OF THE WORLD.

America is undisputedly on the top of the world, and all the signs are that she will remain there. England was once—and for a very long period—on the top of the world and, partly because she threw a great deal more than she possessed into the war and got nothing at all out of it, she is there no longer. A very good thing, too.

And because America is on top of the world she is disliked by a number of persons. She is disliked, let it be said, by those who know her least; by visitors of a week or two, unsuccessful lecturers or victims of the more self-confident type of American tourist. We, too, were loathed when we were on top of the world by every one who wasn't.

But America is disliked in Europe not only because she is on top, owns most of the world's gold, has almost no income tax and gives every one of her workmen a motor car—this last is said every day somewhere by some Englishman and is quite untrue—but also because her influence is said to be spreading disastrously in Europe and especially in England.

In what does this influence consist? What are the fine qualities of modern America's character? They are, I think, vitality, opportunity, warmth of heart, scorn of tradition, equal opportunities for every one, openness of mind, courage. And what are the bad qualities? False values, absence of esthetic standards, restlessness, shallowness, too much common denominator, provincialism, too little depth of knowledge, arrogance, ignorance.

I feel that America is suffering from a false standard of values, and that there is a danger that she will influence Europe unfortunately in this.

A second dangerous direction of influence is toward superficiality; and with this are connected questions of culture, physical restlessness, and peace of mind. Herein, I think, lies America's real danger to Europe.—Hugh Walpole in London Graphic.

THE POSTAL RATE DECISION.

While one may feel, perhaps, that the Interstate Commerce commission is showing a tendency to follow the line of least resistance in imposing higher rates for mail carrying by the railroads at a time when its general policy appears to be directed toward bringing about a lower level of freight rates, neither this consideration nor the threat of a deficit in the post-office department alters the material fact that the railroads seem to have been clearly entitled to the advance. Five of the eleven commissioners dissented from the majority finding awarding the carriers the $15,000,000 a year increase, but there seems to have been no considerable difference of viewpoint as to the merits of the roads' basic position. Such exceptions as were taken dealt chiefly with minor points involved in the majority opinion.

Postmaster General New, in combating the efforts of the carriers to obtain their rate increase, was properly discharging his duty to the taxpayers of the country, for it is his job to run his department as efficiently and economically as is within his power. The burden of proof was on the carriers to show that they merited the rate advance, and on this point they seem to have satisfied the commission. It is true that the effect of this increase in expense, along with the granting of subventions to ship lines operating under the American flag, recent pay advances to postal workers, and a reduction of some $16,000,000 in revenues from second, third and fourth class material, has temporarily unsettled the post-office department budget, which threatens now to show a deficit of about $100,000,000. How the budget is to be made to balance, however is another problem, to which the postmaster general has already turned his attention. The main point for the moment is that it should not be accomplished at the expense of a fair return to the railroads.

It is to be hoped, meanwhile, that the Interstate Commerce commission will be as vigorous in remedying railroad freight rate deficiencies involving commodities in the future as it has been in providing relief for the carriers at the expense of the comparatively inarticulate taxpayer.—New York Herald Tribune.

Deafness.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

Is deafness becoming more common? Many think that it is. Doctors may or may not have statistics to show what the fact is; but whatever it may be, there is no doubt about the immense loss that thousands of deaf persons suffer, both in human intercourse and in communion with surrounding nature. And those who are not deaf have a much greater share than they are aware of in this loss. It is to no man's advantage, in normal circumstances, that his neighbor should lack any of the already too restricted means of communication by the aid of which mankind advances its knowledge of the world amidst which its lot is cast.

This is the era of great benefactions to humanity through the establishment of gigantic institutions for the eradication of diseases, the correction of defects, the maintenance of research and the extension of the range of human control over the undeveloped forces of nature. The necessity of specialization in these things has been demonstrated over and over. It would seem that the time is at hand when a great concentration of efforts should be made to deal more effectively than has been done with the problem of the prevention and cure, or alleviation, of deafness.

It is hardly necessary to point out the esthetic value of the sense of hearing, not only for the individual but for the community. The development of the taste for and appreciation of good music is of the highest importance in civilization; anything that tends to turn the attention of a considerable proportion of the population away from the development of the musical arts is a matter for public regret. Some think that the vibrations of musical sounds have a beneficial effect upon dulled ears.

Every orator ought to urge a campaign against deafness—although some kinds of oratory are said to encourage that defect. An orator reduced to a mere agitated shadow on a movie screen would be a pathetic reminder of the glories of Demosthenes and Daniel Webster. The pulpit must feel the effects of the increase of deafness, if there really is such increase. Society suffers from it; the stump loses listeners, and so, perhaps, voters; the good story-tellers and the fishermen must notice a diminution in their circles—in short, there can not but be universal sympathy with the cause of the deaf, and a great foundation for their relief would be everywhere popular.

Some interesting investigations have recently been made by Messrs. Knudsen and Jones on a phenomenon of deafness which is frequently noticed. This is the alleged increase of hearing power experienced by partially deaf persons in railroad trains and other places where external noises prevail. The investigators combat the generally received opinion that there is an actual increase of auditory acuity in such cases. They regard the phenomenon as simply an example of relative advantage due to the fact that most disturbing noises are of low pitch and therefore not so readily heard by impaired ears. But the person of normal hearing perceiving these sounds raises his voice to override them, while the deaf person, not being aware of the background of noise, speaks in his ordinary tones and thus becomes proportionally inaudible to his acute-eared neighbor.

The necessity for a wider attack upon the subject of deafness is shown by the experience of those who try the many mechanical devices that have of late come upon the market. If they have done nothing else they have proved the great variability of the conditions of impaired hearing among the different victims of it. Those whose hearing has always been perfect have no conception of the marvellous qualities of the physical instrument that has served them so well. — Copyright, 1928, by the Premier Syndicate, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

New York, Aug. 7—Perhaps the most contradictory and curious of the periodical phenomena is Variety, a theatrical weekly. It is the Bible of the amusement world, read alike by the reigning star of the screen and stage and the stake driver on the circus lot.

It has been the subject of literary class discussion in the stately halls of Columbia and other colleges. Professorial gentlemen have pondered over its amazing appeal among all classes. The American Mercury made it the thesis for an analytical piece.

The chief charge against the journal is that it is written in execrable English, but at the same time it will confound its critics by a brilliant editorial worthy of the pen of a Dumas. It has patent it frequently slings the Broadway slang with a tongue in its cheek.

It is responsible for much stage patter of the day. The term "good theater" was its product. Also "laying them out in the aisles," "belly laugh," "slaying 'em," "the quickies," "dumb acts," "ga-ga" and hundreds of other apparently senseless but really illuminating phrases.

Variety occupies a building on west Forty-Fifth street, in the throbbing heart of the theatrical district. Its editor, Sime Silverman, sits at a desk on a raised platform known to employes as "the throne." Yet he is in no sense regal in his attitude. Every man who works for him is his pal. A weighty conference is likely to end up in a coin-matching contest.

They have gone through rough times together and listened for the omnious knock of the bailiff at the front door. Sime is a personable and lovable fellow and his absolute fearlessness has jockeyed him into many tight places. But he always comes out on top smiling. He won't be bluffed.

He has deliberately taken stands costing him small fortunes in loss of advertising. He is sometimes erratic, not answering a letter for months or appearing at his office for weeks. At other times he will remain at his desk for days, catching a few winks of sleep upstairs at night.

Beekman Place, Sutton Place and Tudor City are rivals for the new social swank flowering amid a tumble-down district skirting the East River. The visitor is rather amazed to ride through shabby streets with scabrous buildings criss-crossed with fire escapes, and turn suddenly into landscaped areas dotted with magnificent apartment houses that have the verdant inside courts, canopied entrances, gold-braided doormen and other gee-gaws of wealth.

All this grandeur is due to a restless urge of those crawling with money to be different. And exclusive. First and Second avenues and avenue A, as a result, have something to relieve the monotony of drabness in watching their swell neighbors.

New York has innumerable walking clubs meeting each evening for long strolls about the city. There is one club, called the "Brick Hikers" because they first started daily walks across Brooklyn bridge, that has never failed to have its daily quota in good weather and bad for years. It is said Manhattan's most indefatigable walker is Dr. John H. Finley, of the New York Times. Another faithful hiker is Bernarr MacFadden, the physical culturist, who often walks five miles to his office in the morning.

But New York generally is not a city of walkers. The average citizen walks from home to the nearest subway, elevated or street car, morning and evening, and that is about all.

Most walkers are those walking to reduce. Indeed the flesh reducing craze in the metropolis is a pronounced mania. Any new idea is hailed with enthusiastic hysteria. The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Most of us find it hard to be convinced that a penny has any value. It seems too small to be reckoned with. Buy a cigar and the clerk will either give you a little package of matches or sell you quite a box of them for a cent. Who could make any money out of pennies? The facts about a penny business may give us something to think about. The gross business of the eighteen match manufacturing concerns in this country in one year was nearly $25,000,000. These plants put out more than $4,000,000 in wages. Don't fail to respect the power of the penny.

What is it costing you a year to be ill? A report to the International Conference of Social Work estimates illness in the United States costs each family $134.68 a year. Cost per person is estimated at $31.08. It would be interesting to know how much our bills for sickness might be cut down by a little more common sense and will power in the matter of eating and sleeping.

The lack of tolerance for individuality is a pretty sad thing. We read that one of the principal cities of Bolivia passed a law that the native Indian inhabitants of the city must abandon their bright colored skirts, odd hats and other quaint apparel which they have been wearing for hundreds of years, and must adopt the European fashion of dress, like the rest of us. That's too bad. Little by little all the folks of the earth are being standardized. In time they will be alike, from rubber boots to religion. This is the ideal of the professional "hundred per center." It's a narrow attitude which cares little for beauty, for freedom, and for self-expression.

SMITH PREPARING TO ANSWER WHITE

Nominee Will Show Republicans Put Through Liquor Legislation He Says

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 7—After a careful study of the New York legislative records as they relate to his service in the assembly room from 1904 to 1916, Gov. Al Smith today was understood to be preparing an answer to the charges hurled at him by William Allen White, Kansas editor.

White assailed Smith's record as a member of the lower house of the legislature, charging that he always voted in the interest of the saloon. The governor is said to have discovered several instances in his search of the 20-year-old records where he feels that Editor White did not get his facts exactly straight. A number of the bills for which Smith voted when in the assembly, and which White said were in the interest of the saloon, were sponsored by Republicans and were passed unanimously, according to close friends of the governor.

In his reply to White the governor is planning to point to the fact that virtually all of the time when he was a member of the assembly the Republicans were in complete control of the house, and that if any legislation in the interest of the liquor traffic was passed the Republicans were to blame, because they could have blocked it.

According to friends of the governor he will make it clear in his reply to White that he is not ashamed of his assembly record. He also will stress the point, it was said, that he always has been a foe of the saloon and is a believer in temperance.

As soon as the governr disposes of the charge made against him by White he will turn his attention to the completion of the speech he will deliver on Aug. 22, when he formally accepts the presidential nomination. Before putting the final touches on his acceptance speech however the, governor plans to confer with Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and possibly two or three farm leaders from the middle west.

HOOVER PLANS FOR WATERWAYS AID HIM

Davis Sees His Championing of Development Ace for Farm Vote

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 7—Herbert Hoover will win the farmers of America to his standard by championing the development of inland waterways throughout the country, it was predicted today by Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war.

Davis after calling on Hoover, declared the Republican nominee had a "greater vision of America's waterway problem than any other man in the country." This attitude—in which the nominee sees the development of waterways as a means of reducing transportation cost and a means of bringing the farms and cities near to each other—will be a great influence in the farm belt, in the coming election, said Davis.

"The farmers realize that one of their greatest problems and the most constructive measure of farm relief available is cheaper transportation," said Davis. "Inland waterways mean cheaper transportation not only of farm crops but of the materials shipped to farms, such as farm machinery.

"Mr. Hoover always has taken an advanced stand for inland waterways development. He has a greater vision of the waterway problem than any other man in the country." Hoover received favorable reports of political conditions throughout the middle west from Davis and William H. Crocker, Republican national committeeman from California.

The Mississippi valley is protected now against all ordinary floods, Secretary of War Davis announced here today.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Reduces It Quickly and Dizzy Spells Disappear

Thousands who have dizzy spells, sleeplessness, nervousness, shortness of breath, pains in the head and impaired energy have been told by physicians or insurance examiners that they have high blood pressure. The serious results are well enough known to check it at once. High blood pressure caused by overtaxing the heart often brings on Bright's Disease, apoplexy and sudden death.

Norma reduces high blood pressure. Often one bottle will do it. Many have so testified. It is a doctor's prescription and is much used by women at the changing time of life who usually have blood pressure above normal. Ask for Norma.—Adv.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—The African native is a loyal friend and a cheerful worker. He is instinctively loyal and unselfishly devoted to his white master—or mistress . . . in time of peril he will undergo torture rather than "let down" the person to whom he owes allegiance. He has his creed and he lives up to it by occasionally dying for it.

It is Mary L. Jobe Akeley who speaks so convincingly of the finer qualities of Africa's blacks. Herself an explorer of note, the widow of the late Carl Akeley, scientist and naturalist, she tells in a forthcoming book, of countless incidents of native gallantry "over and above" the call of duty. When Mr. Akeley, then leader of the Akeley-Eastman-Pomeroy Expedition, died on Mount Mikeno in the Congo late in 1926, to Mrs. Akeley fell the task of completing the work which is to be immortalized in the Akeley Memorial African Hall of the American Museum of Natural History.

Her Mount Mikeno camp was 12,500 feet above sea level, constantly swept by storms and enveloped in clouds which wrapped her blacks as if in an icy blanket. Yet the members of her party stuck loyally to their leader, enduring cold, hunger and the attacks of ravenous jungle beasts.

"These Congo savages," says Mrs. Akeley, "although lower in intelligence than any others I had seen in equatorial Africa, were men always with kindness and gentleness in their hearts."

Only when they came in contact with constantly changing white masters did they lose their innate instinct for loyalty and unselfish devotion, she added. Take the case of "Billi," a Kikuyu from the slopes of Mount Kenya. He had been Mr. Akeley's gun boy on previous African expeditions; at his death "Bill" became head boy. Even though this meant gruelling work, long hours and criticism of his comrades, the loyal black remained with his mistress and saw her through with the strenuous task.

The Akeley Memorial African Hall will contain a complete record of primordial Africa — an Africa now fast disappearing before the advance of the settler. The great mammals will be preserved in their natural habitat by means of the taxidermic art which Carl Akeley perfected. In this his widow is acting in an advisory capacity to museum officials.

The woman explorer before her marriage in 1924 was Mary J. Jobe and had a long record of triumphs even then. Mount Jobe in the Canadian Rockies was named in her honor by the Ottawa government, she having been the first white person to ascend its snow-capped peak. When not poking about the queer corners of the world, exploring, hunting or just observing, Mrs. Akeley makes her home at Mystic, Conn., where she teaches to a selected group of pupils the art of enjoying the great outdoors.

When a child learns about germs and thinks about them, its childish innocence is gone.

Human nature is a man's excuse for acting inhuman.

SEES WYKOFF AS PREMIER RUNNER

Better Than Charlie Paddock, Is Assertion of California Man

Boston—"Frank Wykoff is the greatest sprinter of the century. He is better than Charlie Paddock, Borah or any sprinter that the East can put forward. With another year of high school training and four years of college work he will improve too."

The speaker was Thomas J. Barry, native of California and for years a resident of Massachusetts. Mr. Barry was a member of the little party of Boston Athletic Association, Princeton, Harvard and South Boston boys who went across to Athens in 1896 and promptly won the first of the modern Olympic games from the world.

Star Performer

"I look for Wykoff to be a consistent 9.2-5 or 9 3-10 seconds performer in the 100 yards dash within two years," continued Mr. Barry.

"I hope that his coaches will keep him in the shorter dash and not let him continue to run the 220 yard dash. Allowed to run only the shorter event, he will develop more rapidly in it.

"It would not surprise me in the least to see Wykoff the holder of a new world's record for the hundred yard dash by the time that the Olympics are scheduled again in 1932.

"Wykoff and maybe Lloyd Halm were the only members of the United States Olympic team whom I saw that were better in ability than the members of that 1896 squad," replied Mr. Barry to a question of the writer.

NAME DELEGATES

Local 10 and 8 Members Appoint Convention Representatives

Appointment of delegates to the state convention to be held in Columbus Aug. 20 and 21 and final rehearsal for the annual "wreck" initiatory ceremony, to be held here Wednesday night, were features of the regular meeting of Marion Voiture, 40 and 8, at the Armory last night.

P. S. Kennedy, T. E. Kinnear and C. H. Howard were appointed delegates and C. H. Cline, G. C. Greenfield and Harold Rowlinson, alternates to represent the local voiture at the state gathering.

Visitors from Columbus and Marysville are expected to attend the initiation here Wednesday night.

PHYSICIANS EXPLAIN ROSE FEVER CAUSE

Statement Made After President Coolidge Suffers from Ailment

Chicago, Aug. 7—Up in the Brule river country at the summer White House while President Coolidge was suffering from "rose fever," one might imagine the chief executive's malady was due to incessant sniffing at beautiful roses.

But that isn't the case at all, Chicago physicians have discovered.

Roses do not cause "rose fever" a group of hay-fever and asthma experts, recognized as international authorities, have learned after conducting clinics here for some time. They also discovered hay-fever is not entirely due to the flower, goldenrod, as many persons believe.

The doctors in conference here also learned that there are three hay-fever seasons, the first beginning in February and running in'o about May 25 and continues its suffering until about the end of July. The third period of plague is launched in the fall-haying season, starting late in August and running until the first frost comes.

The first hay-fever season of the year is caused by the pollen of trees, the physicians determined; the second season, in which "rose cold" or "rose fever" is active, is started by the pollen from blossoming grasses. It is very seldom caused by the pollen from roses, as the rose pollen is heavy and moist and ordinarily is not carried by winds, the doctors declared.

The third season is the one causing the most general suffering. It is due in the Chicago area to many weeds but chiefly the ragweed and both the giant and dwarf ragweed are sources of the trouble.

If the cars are crowded at the rush hours when you want to go home, why go home? Go to the movies.

Parents Urged To Safeguard Health of Children

Bucyrus, Aug. 7—Bucyrus public schools will open for the fall term, Sept. 10, according to an announcement of Supt. Deitrich, today.

The announcement was accompanied by a warning to parents to safeguard the health of the children. Supt. Dietrick urged parents to have their children examined before school starts.

FRANK D. GLOSSER HONORED BY SCOUTS

"Glosser Hall" Formally Named at Camp as Feature of Rotary Club Visit

Naming of the dining hall at Camp John A. Owens as "Glosser hall," in honor of Frank D. Glosser, of Marion, and dedication of the dining hall's fireplace, "Old Ironsides," featured the visit of Marion Rotarians yesterday to the Harding Area Boy Scout camp south of the city.

Mr. Glosser, who is general chairman of the Harding Area, has been actively engaged in the promotion of Boy Scout work and the camp for several years and naming of the hall in his honor is an appreciation of his services.

The fireplace in the dining hall has been built within the last few weeks and has imbedded in it a piece of the old frigate, "Constitution." The fireplace was built from funds collected by Scouts selling pictures of "Old Ironsides."

The visit of the Rotarians to the camp took place yesterday noon. Dinner was served in the camp dining hall, followed by welcome talks from Scouts Schirmer and Romine, a demonstration in bandaging by Scouts Snyder and Hamilton, dedication of the replace by Scouts Dorsey and Annen and a life-saving exhibition in the swimmig pool by Scouts Hull, Sloan, Rhu and Glosser.

The visit to the camp was under the direction of Walter Brown, Harding Area director, and a member of the Rotary club.

Meditations OF A Married Woman

BY HELEN ROWLAND

OUR OWN SWEET SEX

The modern flapper might draw some sort of conclusion from the fact that Adam never took any sentimental interest in Eve, until she discovered modesty and dolled herself up in a few clothes.

To be thoroughly up to Hoyle these days, a girl has to keep "a stiff upper lip" for business purposes—and a soft lower lip for kissing purposes.

There are no formal proposals of marriage any more; people just wake up to find themselves engaged—that is, the woman finds herself engaged and the man wakes up.

According to a disillusioned husband, the worst thing about teaching a woman to drive is that you turn her from a helpless and admiring dependent into an exacting and sarcatsic critic.

A "conservative woman" is one who gives up her long hair, her long skirts and her Victorian ideals so slowly and reluctantly, that she is nearly fifty before she becomes a full-fledged flapper.

No woman feels "financially depressed" nowadays, as long as the shop will let her charge accounts run, and there is enough credit at the garage to keep the car filled with gasoline.

No matter how firmly a woman's MIND is made up not to let a man make a fool of her, she never can tell when her heart will skid and tempt her to make a fool of herself.

A woman has a lot of respect for all her husband's "conclaves" and "conventions," until she happens to attend one, and discovers that the "morning sessions" are largely hangovers from the evening revelries.

• • •

Better marry a heartless man than one whose heart is so big that one love at a time simply won't fill it.

MODERN WOMEN APPLY BRAINS TO THEIR JOBS

Laugh at Old-fashioned Ideas —Keep Their Looks, Save Their Hands

Not long ago housewives were afraid to use lye in cleaning pots and pans. They used it only for opening up clogged drain pipes, removing rust stains from washbowls, or for purifying garbage pails.

They knew lye cut grease like a knife cuts cheese. They knew it instantly rinsed away, leaving broilers, pots and pans sparkling, sweet smelling. But lye dried the skin of their hands. So in their cleaning water they depended on much soap, hot water, steel wool and muscle. Tired backs and red hands followed.

Then along came the efficient young women of today, determined not to let housekeeping destroy their looks or kill their joy in life.

They looked at those eternally greasy pots and pans. They saw what cleaning did to hands and backs. They determined to keep their hands out of water.

Buying big comfortable rubber gloves or long-handled mops they began using lye. In ten seconds now they swash clean a big broiler that took their mothers ten minutes of hard, scouring.

Red Seal Lye is their favorite because it is 97% pure lye—the purest, quickest acting made.

Don't let routine drag you down. Try this clever new way. Just write down "Red Seal Lye" on your grocery list, now—and tomorrow will end this drudgery forever.

When the summer heat makes your once carefully groomed hair look like a bedraggled mop—

When your wave is a has-been—

When you tear said hair in a frantic attempt to regain that band-box neatness—

When you wonder how stage stars achieve that perfect sheen and manage to keep a wave—

Buy a bottle of my Wave and Sheen. It makes a soft, lovely wave possible during the most "impossible" sweltering days. It gives your hair smart sheen. It adds finish to the exquisite toilette which otherwise might be ruined by the heat of summer.

Wave and Sheen at all toilet counters is 75c a bottle. Your money returned if you are not satisfied.—Adv

Badly Crippled With Rheumatic Aches and Pains

"Konjola Is First Medicine to End My Health Troubles, She States."

MRS. JOHN McCOY

"I was crippled with rheumatism for over four years and Konjola is the first medicine to end my health troubles," said Mrs. John McCoy, Route No. 2, Wadsworth, Ohio, (near Akron), "and I believe it is only right for me to indorse this surprising remedy.

"My limbs and back were full of constant, nagging pains and all the joints in my body were so stiff that it was an effort for me to get up and down the stairs. There was also a dull, heavy ache in the back of my head. Besides this rheumatism, I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble. I always felt miserable after meals and even at night I was tormented with terrible stomach pains.

"Konjola quickly ended all this misery. It drove the rheumatic pains and poisons from my system and cleared up my stomach and kidney troubles. I have a good appetite, enjoy sound sleep at night and have plenty of energy to do all my own work. YFes, I can certainly indorse such a medicine as this."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains twenty-two juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that had been going on for years. At the same time many weak and run-down systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product until now Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is strongly recommended here in Marion at Sfump & Sams Pharmacy, and is also being sold by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

A ROMANCE OF GRIPPING HUMAN INTEREST

...the copy-desk and the man ...ded" was head of it, Coles explained to Emily; the others were copy-readers. It was they who wrote the "heads" she would see at the top of the columns in the newspaper next day.

Over in the corner, he went on, was the "city desk" where all the local news came in; the gray-haired man was city editor.

"Well, I expect he's marvelous, isn't he, King? No one so important—"

"Oh, yes. There's managing editor and editor-in-chief. And the publisher seems to figure prominently."

She thought it very complicated and asked about Bill. "Who's that young journalist?"

He grinned. "Don't ever let this gang hear you call them journalists. They're newspaper-men, see? Only trained seals are journalists."

"Trained seals?" She felt rather dizzy.

"Yes—novelists and playwrights and such brought in for special stuff on big stories. Bill's only a re-write man. See the little guy with the dumb looking face? He's star of this outfit." And he mentioned a name that was world-famous.

"But you'd never think—"

"Certainly not. Seen enough?"

Telephones shrilled; typewriters rattled; from another room came the deafening clatter of telegraph instruments; great brass pipes which Coles said were pneumatic tubes running upstairs to the composing room sighed and snored; shouts of "Boy!" pierced the racket.

"But how do they write here?" Emily demanded. "With so much going on, how can they?"

He turned upon her a look of genuine surprise and declared the place was quiet now.

"Ought to see it when something breaks! Of course they're a little rushed—edition going in. And say, I'd better be moving."

He took her to a small office at the end of the city room and uncovered his typewriter. In hardly a minute he was bent over the machine, pounding as madly as the reporters and rewrite men. His face was drawn with concentration; she knew that for him at this minute, though she was sitting beside him, she didn't exist. And she wondered how he could think as fast as his fingers moved.

Words sprang out at her from the white sheet unrolling from his machine "inadequate—" "rehash—" "flabby plot—"

She turned away. A cruel thing to do—destroy a man's work this way. Perhaps the young fellow with the anxious eyes would be discouraged—never try again. She had a feeling Coles was not being wholly sincere in his condemnation; that he was "acting up" rather like a small boy trying to be smart. In spite of her excitement it depressed her.

Through the glass partition she could see the city room. A girl was coming in now and Emily watched her with interest. She was vaguely like Frances Haiden, though much younger and with more of an alert air.

There was a certain carelessness about her clothes, a sort of hurried look as if she gave them little thought. But they were plain and well-tailored and her whole appearance was one of sleek efficiency.

She went to the city desk and, leaning over it, talked harriedly to the city editor. He nodded once or twice and glanced at the clock; the girl, moving very fast, sat down at a typewriter. With a half nod at Bill who looked up briefly, she ran paper into the roll and her fingers flew.

When she had finished a page she called "Boy!" without raising her head. One came and took what she had written to the city editor who ran through it and sent it on to the copy desk.

"Mark that 'must,'" he bawled at the solemn personage. "Exclusive on the Rawlings divorce."

Emily thought it the most fascinating thing she ever had seen. Fancy a girl doing that—working out there in that noise! She felt anything marked "must" surely be very special.

Coles told her it was. That was after he had closed his desk and they were on the way to the ferry. "Means it must run no matter what else is thrown out. That girl's a good reporter, digs up stuff no one else can get.

"Well, I only wish I could have a job like hers."

He smiled down at her and shook his head. "No job for a woman girl. Reporters are out at all hours, in all places, going without food or rest. Work is different for a kid going into a shop like Frances Haiden's just for the fun of it."

She started to say, 'But I'm not working for the fun of it: I've a family to take care of!"

She didn't say it. They came to the ferry just then and she didn't remember to say it. Long afterward she wondered why she hadn't remembered.

An epochal discovery will be that of why babies cry and getting them out of the notion of it. It would beat flying.

The Heart Story of a Womans Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON

Tour Brings Realizations to Lillian

LILLIAN'S eyes followed mine to the corner of the subway car where Mary and Marion had found seats and she nodded a smiling assent to my amused comment that the sanity of both young girls would be endangered if their shopping trip was longer delayed. With bright eyes, flushed cheeks and feet occasionally tapping the car floor they might have posed for a picture labeled "Impatience."

"It won't be long now," she said, and her prophesy was justified, for there was no delay on the subway, and the taxi which we took from the station to the shop of Lillian's choosing, threaded traffic miraculously, to my eyes, although both girls grumbled at its pokiness.

"Hurry, Mother!" Marion urged as Lillian was paying the driver. "I'm so afraid those jackets will be gone."

"You and Mary go up to that floor at once," Lillian directed. "Auntie Madge and I will meet you there."

They scurried away and Lillian fell into step with me.

"Six years ago she was tugging at my hand to see a display of dolls in this very store," Lillian said, with a vaguely regretful note in her voice. "Today it's the latest thing in leather sports jackets. I wonder what six more years will bring."

"Her trousseau, probably," I said, smiling, but at the look which came into Lillian's eyes, my idle amusement vanished.

"Heaven forbid!" she said fervently. "She'd be barely twenty-two!"

I told myself that many fashionable mothers would feel that twenty-two was quite an advanced age for their unmarried daughters. But I knew that Lillian, deprived for so many years of her little daughter, was panic-stricken at the idea of Marion's making an early marriage and leaving her.

"That's true," I assented in hasty amends. "You probably will have to trail her to a stationer's instead of a dress shop. She'll be laying in a supply of paper for the great American play or novel."

Lillian's relieved laugh was as hearty as if the trite suggestion had been something worth saying, and then the elevator crowd engulfed us, and we had no more opportunity for speech until we reached the section where Marion and Mary with a differential saleswoman in attendance were looking at a fascinating array of colored leather jackets.

"Oh! Mummy!" Marion's voice was ecstatic. "The blue one I read about isn't gone, she says. She's having the last girl got my size in it. Oh! here it is now!"

Lillian and I exchanged amused glances over her shoulders, which were both wriggling with impatience to try on the jacket. The saleswoman put her into it, buttoned it up and Marion dashed for a mirror returning after a satisfied glance to ask our approval.

"Isn't it the spiffiest thing ever?" she demanded, "and isn't the color heavenly?"

"I can't subscribe to all your adjectives, Marion," her mother told her with a smile, "but I like it very much. Don't you, Madge?"

"Indeed, yes," I agreed heartily, noting how the color brought out the blue of Marion's eyes. Then I turned to Mary who was holding a russet brown jacket in her hand with almost a caressing touch.

"Is that the color you're choosing, Mary?" I asked.

She dropped the garment abruptly. "I'm not getting one," she said.

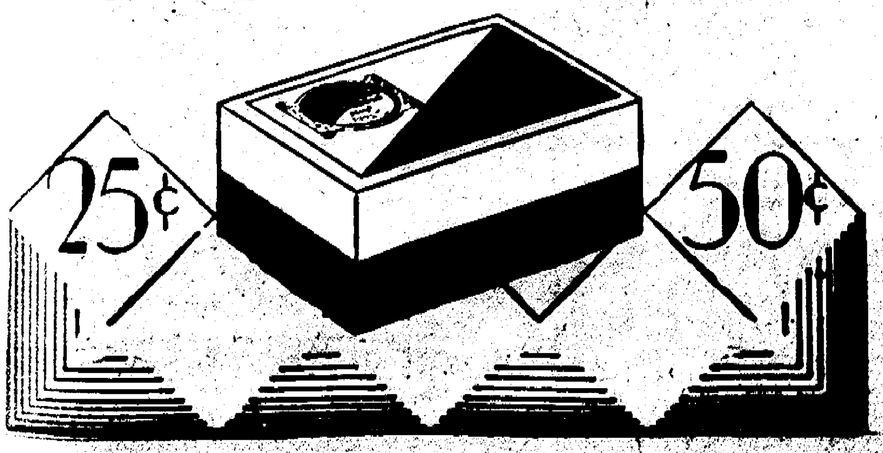
BLACK AND WHITE FACE POWDER



Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

IT was hot again this morning when me and Jubilee woke up, and he stood up on the pillow and looked down at me, like he was asking me why I let it get so hot. He thinks that I do everything. And my father thinks I don't do anything. I put my finger up to feel of my upper lip, and it was covered with drops of sweat. I suppose there are little holes in a fella's upper lip for his mustache to come out of when it gets ready and they are so small a fella can't see them, but the sweat knows where they are and comes out through them. A dog does all of his sweating with his tongue and that is why he lets it hang out doors so much.

When we had got our cows out we went out to Rocky River and waded acrosst and clumb up the cliff and got a lot of ears of corn out of the cornfield and chunked them down in the deep place in the river so they wouldn't be bruised, and where the current isn't so very strong, and then we went down and got them and carried them acrosst the river and made a big fire and covered the ears of corn up with ashes and hot coals; and we were beginning to dribble thinking how good they would be when we heard a noise like a landslide and looked acrosst the river and there was the farmer and his hired man sliding down the side of the cliff in a shower of rocks and dirt, and before they had got down to their side of the river we were all out on the road, and I guess no one ever picked them up and put them down faster than we did.

I think a fella runs better in August, because the more he runs the more he sweats and the sweat oils up his joints so that he can run faster and make more sweat to oil up his joints better yet. The farmer must of stopped at the fire, because we didn't see anything of him after we hit the road.

Girls can run as fast as boys pretty near. I looked at Younice when we were running side by side and she was running like a gray hound, and was kinda smiling like she was doing it easy, and Feeble and Maggie were makin it all right too.

When we got to the vacant lot Miss Parmer called us and when she got us in her house she made some cold lemonade and turned on her fan, and she said the girls would stay with her whilst the boys went for a swim. She said she was going to teach the girls a new stitch she had discovered, and the girls were as tickled as if she was going to give them ice cream cones. Girls aren't so very bright. But there is something about them that a fella can't help liking. My unkle says they are easy on the eyes. Maybe that is it.

I went to bed early, by the advice of my father.

STORE TO CLOSE FOR LOWENSTEIN RITES

Marion Furniture Co. To Honor Memory of Founder, Weonesday

The Marion Furniture Co. will be closed all day Wednesday on account of the death of Samuel Lowenstein, of Hamilton, O. Mr. Lowenstein died at City hospital, Hamilton, Sunday night as a result of a stroke of paralysis a week ago. He was 71 years of age.

Mr. Lowenstein is the father of Harry Lowenstein, of Hamilton, president of the Marion Furniture Co. and was founder of the company, which operates the local store. The elder Mr. Lowenstein also is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Stella Silver, and a son, Joe Lowenstein, of Hamilton.
